VOL. 24 No. 49 Lancaster Farming, Saturday, October 6, 1979 $7.00 Per Year

Tensions were high early Saturday afternoon as the parade of champions passed before the flower bedecked official's table in the Timonium livestock arena. The grand champion was shown by Jody Martz of Lanark, Ill.

Anderson wins at New Holland hog show

By SHEILA MILLER

NEW HOLLAND — The grand champion market hog was exhibited by Scott Anderson, New Holland R2. The hog, Sniffy, was the winner of the lightweight division of the New Holland 4-H club's livestock show, on Thursday.

In judging the market hogs, judge Henry Gruber of A & B Packing, Allentown, selected the animals that showed more roundness of ham, but slightly looser hams for better shipping and marketing. He described the champion hogs as being modern with large frames and no excess finish.

The reserve champion market hog was shown and owned by Jim Martin, New Holland R2. Jim's hog was the top placed hog in the heavyweight division. Jim also won the top honors in fitting and showmanship.

Scott Anderson, 8, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Anderson. This is Scott's first year in 4-H. When asked why he chose to show a hog in 4-H, Scott remarked, "Because they aren't as big as horses and cows". It was a decision Scott's parents were probably happy about since the Anerson's do not live on a farm.

Jim Martin has been in 4-H for five years. He has earned the reserve grand champion honor only once before. Jim is the son of Mrs. Mary Martin.

The classes of the 4-H market hog show were placed as follows:

Lightweights

1. Scott Anderson, New Holland; 2. David Fisher, East Earl; 3. Mike McCauley, Gap; 4. Michelle McCauley, Gap.

Heavyweights

1. Jim Martin, New Holland; 2. Jim Martin, New Holland; 3. Dave Fisher, East Earl; 4. Brian McCauley, Gap.

Fitting

1. Jim Martin, New Holland; 2. Heidi Fisher, East Earl; 3. Dave Fisher, East Earl; 4. Scott Anderson, New Holland.

Showmanship

1. Jim Martin; 2. Dave Fisher; 3. Heidi Fisher; 4. Scott Anderson.

Attack on shatter cane

The New Holland area adult farmer program has picked up an unlikely ally in their battle against a pesky weed that seems to take over more and more corn ground every year.

The weed is shattercane, an intentional cross between Johnsongrass and sorghum. It was originally meant to be used as a feed crop, but its impact as a weed has more than outweighed its value in the feed bunk.

Some of the corn ground around New Holland this year looked more like shattercane fields than corn fields, according to Donna Marion.

Miss Marion is the young lady who's trying to help the area farmers develop a program to wipe out the shattercane in their fields. She is a senior at Penn State, and will be graduating next month with a double major in agricultural education and dairy science.

While her interests might indicate that she spent most of her life on a farm, she didn't. She grew up around the world, in fact, in places like Norway and San Diego, as her father, a Navy career man, moved between naval bases.

10 states represented at Timonium Show

TIMONIUM, MD - The Eastern National Livestock Show at Timonium got underway this week on Wednesday, and was due to close today, Saturday, with a 4-H and FFA competition in beef heifers.

Thursday's competitions included a 4-H and FFA steer show, barrow futurity and pair show, production tested barrow show and market hog and lamb contests for 4-H and FFA.

In the steer show, both

Sheila Miller joins staff

Sheila Miller

LITITZ - Sheila M. Miller, Hershey R1, has joined the staff of Lancaster Farming as an associate editor.

A native of Hershey, Sheila is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon J. Miller. She is currently residing at her parents' farm near Hershey, along with her husband Michael L. Miller. Michael is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Miller of Gettysburg R5.

Sheila has come to Lancaster Farming after having been employed by the Soil Conservation Service (USDA) for over five years. She was the first woman District Conservationist for SCS in Pennsylvania, and the second woman to hold that position in the nation. Sheila was stationed in Lackawanna County for three years, and served in Berks, Adams, and Dauphin during her employment with SCS.

A 1974 graduate of Penn State, she received her degree in general agriculture. While at Penn State, Sheila was a member

Penn Manor FFA'ers win top awards

MILLERSVILLE—Two Penn Manor Future Farmers were recently honored with awards in separate livestock judging competitions.

Gordon Long, the 17 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Long, Columbia, R3, represented Pennsylvania at the Eastern States Livestock Judging Contest. He was the top individual scorer from the state and placed fifth overall. The team of which Long was a member placed fourth overall.

Gordon is a senior at Penn Manor High School and is president of the FFA Chapter. He plans a future in farming and is presently in partnership with his father in a hog farrowing operation.

First place individual honors at the Richmand, Va. Livestock Judging contest went to Kevin Landis, Lancaster,R6 with the state team of three placing first.

The 16 year old junior is active in the Manor Chapter and is presently an officer. He farms with his father on a steer farm and hopes to have a career in farming. Kevin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Landis.

At Pennfield, we formulate feeds and feeding programs with your profit in mind.

"All feed companies are alike."

If you believe that statement, you could be missing an opportunity to increase your output of eggs, pork or milk—without increasing your costs.

At Pennfield, our basic goal is to help our customers make more money. We believe we can accomplish this for you, too. For these reasons:

• Customized feeding programs. We specifically tailor a program to your operation, not to an "operation like yours."

• Nutritionally-superior feeds. We go a step beyond many conventional feeds. Our feeds have Optimum Nutrient Density (most profitable nutrient level per pound of feed) and contain high-quality protein for balanced amino acid nutrition.

• Quality in, quality out. We chemically analyze all incoming feed grains for pesticide residues and toxins... and all finished feeds for overall quality and nutrient content.

• Technical service. We're responsive to your needs—by phone or on your farm.

• A local company. We buy our feed grains locally; shipping savings are passed on to customers. Our feeding programs are developed based on local conditions. We do test work and field trials based on local conditions.

These and other Pennfield advantages are helping hundreds of new customers increase their profits. We can do the same for you. But you must take the first step by phoning or writing us. Do it today.

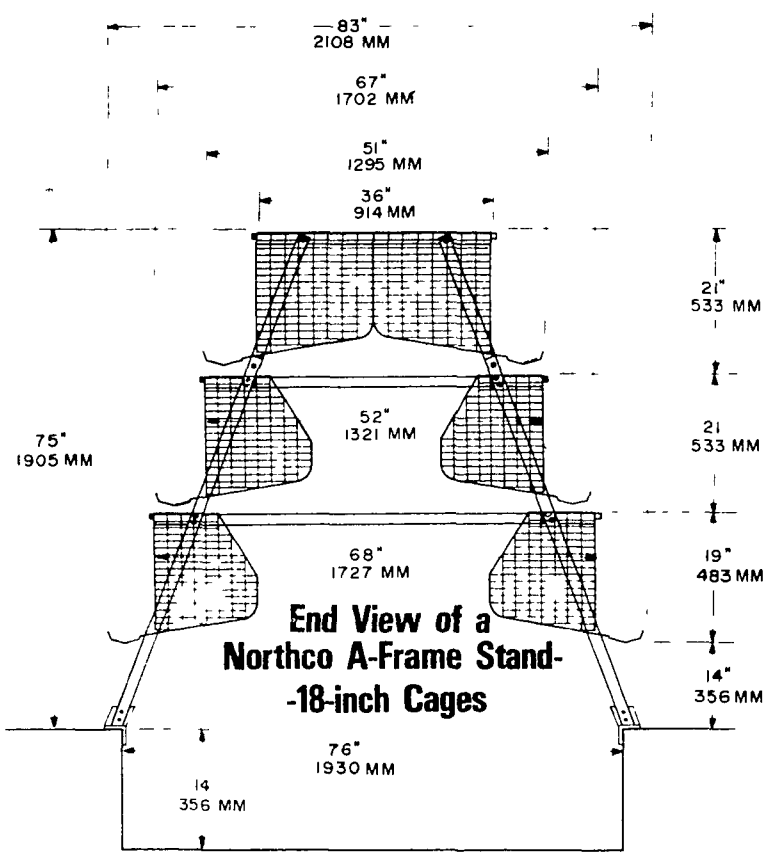
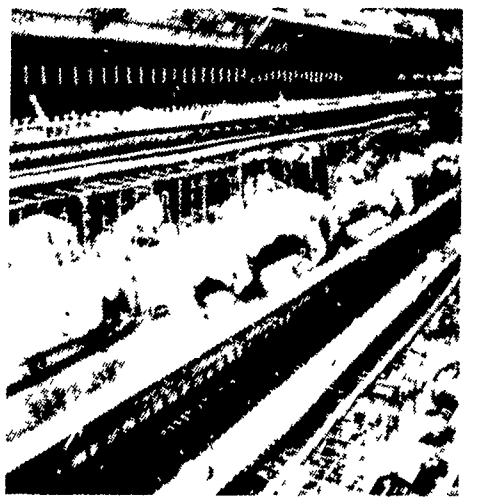
NORTHCO Slant-Back Cage Laying System



End View of a Northco A-Frame Stand--18-inch Cages

IT'S A TOTAL SYSTEM

Combine the Slant Back System with NORTHCO Cage Feeding, Ventilation, Egg Gathering and Manure Handling Systems and you have a total system engineered to provide efficiency and dependable performance.



HIGH DENSITY . . . LOW PROFILE

Northco's Slant-Back System is the simple way to increase profits by cutting building costs and increasing bird densities.

HIGH DENSITY - Using Northco's 18-inch (45.7 cm.) deep cages, forty thousand birds easily fit into a 40-foot (12 2 m.) wide house with a 420-foot (123 m) long cage row. Systems with 16-inch (40 6 cm.) deep cages are even more compact. Either way the total height of the cage row is only 75-inches (191 cm)

NO DROPPING BOARDS OR DROPPING BOARD SCRAPERS - Vinyl dropping shields on the slanted cage backs deflect manure into the pit Manure on the shields dries and flakes off into the pit without build-up.

WELL VENTILATED - Northco's Roof Exhaust Ventilation System provides every bird on every deck the fresh air needed to minimize stress and increase production

National 4-H Week is a tribute to today's farm, town, and city youth

In honor of National 4-H week, Jimmy Carter, president of the United States, addressed a letter to all 4-H'ers across the country. We have chosen to include portions of his letter for the benefit of all 4-H members, leaders and supporters across the country.

...I wish to take this opportunity to congratulate all those involved in this outstanding youth program on another year of growth and important accomplishments.

Your theme, "4-H - Expanding Horizons," is an especially appropriate one that focuses on the fine way in which 4-H programs are expanding horizons for millions of youth through achievement and self-fulfillment.

4-H is a program that is reaching out to all young Americans --rural and urban-- from every cultural, economic and social background Through learn-by-doing educational projects and activities, 4-H'ers are contributing to energy conversation, environmental improvement, community service, food production and many other areas vital to all of us and participating in valuable programs that aid youth employment and career decisions, health, nutrition and strong family relationships As a result of its fine exchange programs with many countries around the world, 4-H is making important contributions to international understanding.

I commend you for your accomplishments and challenge you to continue to pursue your quest for knowledge and ways to help solve the many needs and problems of our day. By your involvement, you greatly enrich the lives of all Americans and build a stronger future for our country.

I pledge my head to clearer thinking,

my heart to greater loyalty,

my hands to larger service, and my health to better living for my club, community, country and my world

COMMITTED TO JOY

Lesson for October 7, 1979

Background Scripture:
Philippians 1.
Devotional Reading:
Luke 12:22-31.

Many people believe that joy and happiness are something that happens to us. If we are happy, it is because something good has come our way. If we have no joy in our lives, it is because of the joyless circumstances in which we find ourselves. Lots of people seek happiness, but the "right" circumstances seem always to elude them. It seems they are always behind the door when the goodies are passed out.

According to that understanding, Paul was the last man we might expect to experience joy. When he wrote his letter to the Philippians, he was in jail, imprisoned unjustly on trumped-up charges by his enemies. His great mission had come to a grinding halt, his work was discredited by the authorities and his enemies were gloating.

I Thank My God!

The opening of his letter, then, comes with a bit of a jolt, for he begins with these words: "I thank my God in all rememberance of you, always in every prayer of mine for you all making my prayer with joy..." (Philippians 1:3). That is hardly the testimony of a victimized, embittered man! In the midst of all his troubles, Paul was thankful!

What for? Well, for one thing, he was thankful for the love and concern of the Philippian church. They had shared in his missionary work and after he was imprisoned they apparently sent him some tangible expressions of their concern. The more cynical might wonder what good their concern was—after all, he was still in jail! But Paul did not see it that way.

I Shall Rejoice

In fact, that was the secret of his joy. He looked at the situation he was in and saw it differently than someone else might. True, he was in jail and unjustly at that, but he was reaching people with his preaching in jail that he couldn't have reached otherwise. Furthermore, some of his enemies were preaching the Gospel just to spite him. Yet, instead of seeing that as a "minus," Paul saw it as a "plus"—"What then? Only that in every way, whether in pretense or in truth, Christ is proclaimed; and in that I rejoice" (1:18). Paul was looking at the same bad circumstances and he was seeing them in a different light.

And the reason for his different point of view was his commitment to joy. Happiness didn't "just happen" to him. He was not overwhelmed with wonderful events and circumstances. No, he experienced joy because he was determined to find joy in his life. Catch the determination in his "Yes and I shall rejoice!" (1.19). Because his joy was not dependent upon circumstances and good luck, they could put him in jail but they couldn't take away his joy.

Nor can anyone take away your joy — if you're committed to it.

TO PREPARE FOR FREEZING WEATHER

October is a good time to winterize both buildings and farm machinery. Even though freezing weather may be several weeks ahead, it is still not too soon to be getting ready. Insulation is a big word these days and is surely very important. Not only will adequate insulation reduce fuel costs, but will also prevent condensation of walls and ceilings. Water cooled motors will be needing some anti-freeze, or be drained. Don't store them away without some attention to prevent freezing. Exposed water pipes will freeze quickly. They may be wrapped with electric heating cable, or buried 24 to 30 inches into the ground. Get ready for winter before the weather gets cold.

TO PREVENT CATTLE STRESS

This is the time of the year when "bold" cattle feeders are trying to fill their feedlots. Even though feeder prices are high, the outlook for fat cattle is favorable and feeders should be alert for their particular kind of cattle and keep the barn busy. When these new cattle arrive one of the most important things is to keep them quiet for several days and permit them to rest. The less stress and excitement the better for the first two weeks. Segregating new cattle from the rest of the herd is strongly suggested. Many diseases and health outbreaks are brought to the farm and given to acclimated cattle. The investment is too great to handle with careless management.

TO UTILIZE CORN FODDER

Last fall we noticed that more farmers harvested their corn stalks for bedding than in recent years. This is a good practice and we encourage other livestock and dairy producers to use shredded corn stalks for bedding purposes. The organic matter is still returned to the land when the stalks are used to keep livestock clean and warm. The price of bedding has been high in recent years and shredded corn stalks can fill this need. After the corn is picked, the stalks can be shredded, and when dry can be baled and brought to the barn. The use of corn stalks in this manner that are infested with European Corn Borer, might be one way to help control this insect.

TO SOW A COVER CROP THIS FALL

A number of office inquires recently concerned the planting of a cover crop following tobacco, tomatoes, or another row crop. This is an excellent practice and we encourage all farmers to keep their land covered with some vegetation during the winter months. The sowing of any winter grain crop can serve as a cover crop; also, both domestic ryegrass and field bromegrass can be used to establish a sod and good winter cover. Next spring the growth can pastured early and then plowed down or used in a no-till grain operation. Cover crops not only add organic matter but help to hold the topsoil during the winter months. They are well worth the investment.

When you shortchange their nutrition, you shortchange yourself.

Looking for ways to cut on down on out-of-pocket feed costs without cutting down on milk production?

Cutting production costs will backfire if you end up shortchanging your herd's nutrition in the process.

But you can cut those costs safely by feeding homegrown grains and grain silage fortified with the right Vigortone Dairy Pre-Mix. These potent pre-mixes contain the proper levels of vitamins, calcium, phosphorus, and other minerals needed to balance your farm's feedstuffs.

Vigortone Dairy Pre-Mixes can be mixed in or metered on any palatable grain or roughage. This lets you change ration content to fit the supplies you have on hand without risking herd performance

Better herd nutrition means a bigger milk check Minimum out-of-pocket feed costs mean more in your pocket

Your figures will prove it.

Dry cow nutrition pays future profits.

Shortchanging your dry cow's nutrition can be risky too. Most problems dairymen experience in getting cows back in the string can be traced to careless treatment during the dry period.

Keep them in top condition until their next lactation. To help you do it, Vigortone has developed unique dairy pre-mixes specially concentrated for dry cow rations.

Now is the time to compare.

See your Vigortone dealer soon. He's ready to compare the performance of Vigortone's cost-saving dairy feeding programs with any other you name.

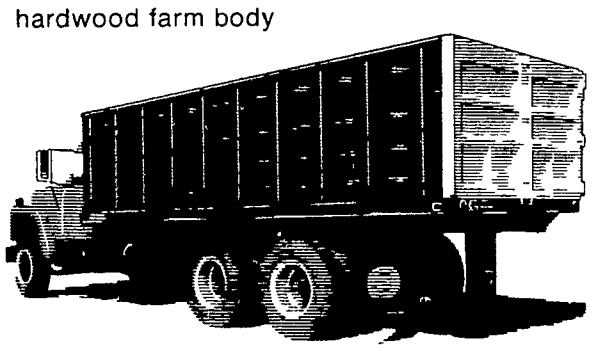
Livestock & Grain Bodies

Bigger Than Ever, Better Than Ever

Precision engineered roll formed 52" high steel sides provide greater capacity at less cost.

We've built rugged truck bodies for over 50 years and today we re continuing that tradition That s the reason you can't make a better investment than an Omaha Standard steel or hardwood farm body



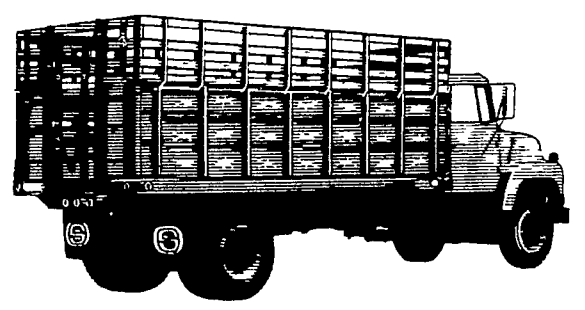
■ One-piece roll formed steel sides with built in tarp rail Available in 28', 40" and 52" extra-capacity heights all with maximum corrugation for maximum strength

■ 40" and 48" hardwood sides also available the truck body Omaha Standard built its reputation on

■ The toughest platform in the business—laminated wood, smooth steel or tread plate

■ Easy-conversion hardwood upper racks greater flex and life than steel fold down racks

■ A full line of rugged gates all engineered to make your job easier

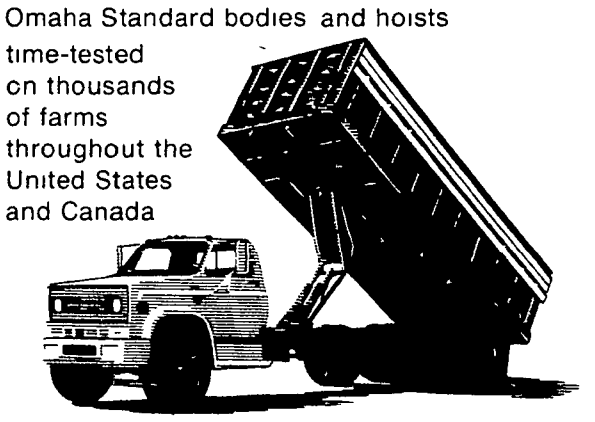


Omaha Standard Hoists

■ Seven precision-engineered scissor hoists from 4 to 34 tons for bodies 8' to 24'

Olympic Series twin telescopic hoists with greater torsional stability for bodies 16' to 26' and 15 to 43 ton capacity

Omaha Standard bodies and hoists time-tested on thousands of farms throughout the United States and Canada



Look to Omaha Standard for the best Our equipment takes all the punishment you can dish out and comes back for more, year after year We stake our reputation on it

We've been a part of successful farming and ranching for over 50 years.

Fed cattle prices advanced sharply the fore part of week on modest supplies, but part of the early upturn was lost at midweek. Most buying interests came into the week in need of supplies for immediate requirements and were aggressive for numbers, with the early upturns partially supported by a higher, though rather slow-moving carcass trade. Heavy deliveries of futures contracts cast a strong psychological influence over the market amidst speculations as to the affect this might have if and when these cattle were tendered for sale. The run included a fairly liberal percentage choice steers and heifers and a moderate volume choice and prime. Steers made up approximately 33 pct. and heifers 30 pct. Cows comprised 8 pct. and feeders 29 pct.

STEERS: The forepart of week, several loads choice 3 and choice and prime 3-4 1066-1201 lbs. 69.75-70.00. Maryland SCS releases inventory data

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - Maryland's cropland is losing soil almost twice as fast as nature can replace it according to a recent survey by the U.S. Soil Conservation Service (SCS).

Sheet and rill erosion–the least noticeable type of soil loss–is occurring at an average annual rate of 7 tons per acre on cultivated land in the state. Nationwide, cultivated cropland loses about 5.4 tons per acre per year, ranging from an average of 1 ton in some states to 49 tons in the Caribbean.

The three-part study, called the National Resources Inventory, began in 1977 in response to inquiries by Congress and others as to the status of the nation's soil and water resources. Over 200,000 statistically selected points were sampled nationwide by conservation technicians; 587 in Maryland. Gerald R. Calhoun, head of SCS in Maryland, said his agency as well as local soil conservation districts will use the date to set priorities for the state's voluntary soil and water conservation program.

In addition to sheet and rill erosion, the first phase of the study measured land use, soil capability, small water areas, prime farmland, and conservation needs. The second phase, due out in early 1980, measures gully, streambank, roadbank and construction site erosion. The third and final phase will compute sediment delivery for major river basins and is expected to be completed in late 1980.

"Erosion poses a triple threat," says Calhoun. "Not only does it rob the land of its productivity, it causes sedimentaion and water pollution problems."

Calhoun cautions against relying too heavily on average erosion figures. "You must remember that the figures on the computer printout don't tell you about the nearly level parts of the state where erosion is negligible or about the steep, intensely farmed areas where erosion runs up to 40 tons per acre per year and more. We'll have a better grasp on the total erosion picture after Phase 2 is complete."

In addition to erosion control, the study identified areas needing treatment such as drainage, irrigation, and improvement of pasture and forest land to increase productivity. Significant, Calhoun says, is the fact that soil and water conservation treatment is needed on about 1.3 million acres of crop and pastureland; 1.4 million acres of forest land; and on over 102,000 acres of other land including urban and developing areas in Maryland.

The study also showed that almost half of the state's 1.7 million acres of cropland is considered prime, that is, the soils are highly productive with a minimum of input.

There are about 557,000 acres in the state not presently cultivated that have potential for being converted to cropland. Another approximately 2.6 million acres have already been built-up or are otherwise unsuitable for conversion to cropland.

The study also shows there are about 216,000 acres of wetlands in the state; 41,000 acres of irrigated land; 45,000 acres of strip mines, pits and quarries; 43,000 acres of floodprone cropland; 505,000 acres of floodprone rural land; and about 50,000 acres of streams and small water bodies.

Rohrers to enter Southdowns in NAILE

QUARRYVILLE - Gerald W. and Barbara Rohrer of Quarryville, will be exhibitors at the 1979 North American International Livestock Exposition, according to Harold Workman, Manager of the Expo. Workman said that the Rohrer's will enter Southdown sheep for competition at the North American International, an event which will take place during November 3-17 in Louisville, Kentucky. The NAILE will again be held at the Kentucky Fair and Exposition Center.

The North American International Livestock Exposition is entering its sixth consecutive year this season, and those who compete will vie for more than $225,000 in total premiums and awards. Beef cattle, dairy cattle, swine, Quarter Horses and sheep will be shown during the two-week Exposition, and Manager Workman said entries this year promise to break the show record at 12,000 or more.

Livestock activities this year will include: four major Dairy shows; three National Beef shows and open shows for nine other Beef breeds; six National Sheep shows and open shows for five other Sheep breeds; AQHA, NCHA and NRHA approved Quarter Horse events and Open Quarter Horse Show; two Purebred Swine shows and Market Hog show; Junior Steer show; Feeder Calf Show and Sale; Junior Market Lamb show; and 25 major sales for all species.

4-H is worldwide

The success of the United States 4-H program has created world-wide interest. This success in particularly significant during National 4-H Week, being celebrated October 7-13.

In the past few years, 4-H has been adapted to more than 82 countries around the globe. International membership has passed the five-million mark.

The International Foreign Youth Exchange (IFYE) program has helped to spread the 4-H story to Denmark, Argentina, Ecuador, Germany, Honduras, Italy, Thailand, Turkey, Chile, Brazil, and many other countries.

Since 1948, more than 3,000 United States young adults have spent six months to a year in Africa, Asia, Europe, South American, the Middle East, and Pacific areas.

In exchange, more than 3,300 young farm people from 70 foreign nations have lived with more than 30,000 families in the United States. Pennsylvania families host numerous foreign exchangees each year.

The 4-H Peace Corps program has also given an important boost to the international 4-H program. Hundreds of 4-H alumni have served in Peace Corps units around the world.

Basically, the Peace Corps teams are responsible for recruiting and training local 4-H leaders, helping to establish county-level 4-H projects, and visiting members to give technical assistance with their project work.

grand and reserve champion ribbons went to Midwestern animals. The big winner was an 1165 Angus-Chianina cross shown by Jody Martz from Lanark, Ill. Reserve honors went to a 1220-lb. Angus-Simmental animal shown by Teressa Danner of Muscatine, Iowa.

all, there were ten represented in the test, the widest distribution of competitions.

nd champion in- in the barrow show was displayed by Paul Forrester from Front Royal, Virgina.

The champion pair came from Stewartstown with John Strawbridge. The reserve pair was shown by another Pennsylvanian, Darryl Sheiss of Chambersburg.

Strawbridge repeated his championship performance in the production tested barrow show with another grand champion pair. Reserve honors in that category went to Merle Hess of Smithburg, Md., who also captured the top prize in the individual showings.

Reserve individual in the production show was an animal owned by George Shue of Brodbecks.

In the 4-H and FFA market lamb show, a young lady named Kelly George took the grand champion ribbon with a 135-lb. Suffolk.

Sarah Brubaker, Lancaster, took reserve honors in the lamb show with a 120-lb. Hampshire.

Two named to Weaver posts

NEW HOLLAND - George Zimmerman, Kinzers R1, and Douglas L. Eaby, Ephrata R2, have been named to night shift production supervisory positions in the Frozen Foods Division of Victor F. Weaver, Inc.

Zimmerman has been named to the post of Dutch Entree production supervisor, night shift.

He joined Weaver in 1971 as a group leader in the Fried Chicken Production Department. He has since served as assistant supervisor and production supervisor of the Fried Chicken Department.

In his new position as Dutch Entree production supervisor, he will be responsible for the night shift production activities of Weaver Chicken Turnover, Chicken Croquettes, Chicken Au Gratin, and other specialty products.

Eaby has been promoted to Fried Chicken, production supervisor, night shift. He joined Weaver in 1978 as a standards and methods engineer, a post he has held until his recent promotion. He is a graduate of the Industrial Management Institute, where he received an associate degree in 1972 in industrial management

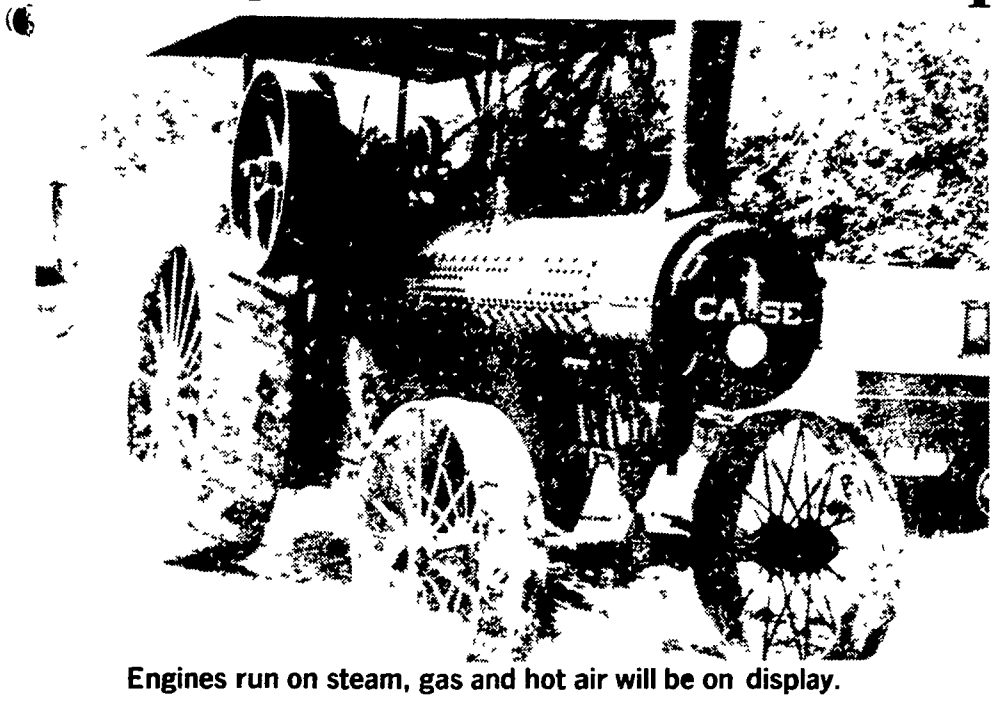
Engine and craft show planned



Engines run on steam, gas and hot air will be on display.

Rough and Tumble Engineers' Historical Assn., Inc. will be sponsoring an engine and craft show on their museum grounds located at Kinzers, on Route 30 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. October 13, 1979. Local crafters are invited to exhibit at this event with the engine hobbiests.

Engines from model to industrial size running on steam, gas and hot air will be on display. Two steam locomotives, a sawmill and shingle mill will be in operation. A light lunch will be prepared by the Kinzer Fire Company. The R&T Ladies Auxiliary will be making homemade applebutter. The kiddies will have a chance to scramble for coins in a straw pile at 3 p.m. Flea market space is available. There will be free hayrides on the grounds.

This will be the last time this year that the steam traction engines will be fired and running. Come see the engines shine at the Erschine-O-Rama

Ag in action day October 7

FLEMINGTON, N.J. - The harvest of corn for grain and silage is well under way on Hunterdon and Somerset farms. Combines, corn pickers, forage harvesters are working full-tilt to gather the crops.

With harvest in full-swing, tours of several nearby Somerset County farms have been scheduled for Sunday, October 7, from 12 noon to 4:00 p.m.

"Agriculture in Action Day," is sponsored by the Somerset and Hunterdon County Boards of Agriculture and the Cooperative Extension Service.

Held last year for the first time by the Somerset County Board, the affair was very well received. It's aim was to offer the public an opportunity to see first-hand the agricultural practices employed by area farmers in the production of several important commodities. People had the chance to see and discuss [illegible] of operations, [illegible] of problems encountered farms and [illegible] the efforts of the farming community to protect the environment

Host farms, this year, are Hill-Haven Farm, a large grain and hay operation, Christopher Farm, an excellent hog farm; and Tom Kanach and Sons, a large, progressive, dairy farm.

All are located near Clover Hill, east of Flemington Direction signs will be at the prominent intersections approaching Clover Hill.

Free wagon tours will make the circuit of the farms. Guides will be on the wagons to describe the operations underway and to answer questions.

There will be demonstrations of field chopping corn for silage, harvesting corn grain, drying and storing grain, hay-making, water and soil conservation practices.

Daryl Martin, seated, earned the highest overall placings at the area FFA tractor driving contest held last week. Tom Good placed second. Both students will participate in the state competition next summer.

Area tractor driving contest held at Ephrata

EPHRATA - The area FFA tractor driving contest was held at the Ephrata Community Park on September 26 in conjunction with the Fair.

The competition was open to Lancaster and Chester County Area FFA members and was judged by local agriculture teachers and farm equipment representatives.

Contestants compete in four separate events with scores being totaled for overall award winners. The events included: tractor driving skills, tractor maintenance test, trouble shooting, and maintenance demonstration.

Daryl Martin, the 15 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Martin, Ephrata R2, drove the tractor into first place position. Second place was awarded to Tom Good of Lititz R1. He is the 17 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Good and attends Manheim Central High School. These top two competitors will attend the state contest at Penn State next June.

The tractors for the competition were donated by local equipment dealers including: Roy Buch, Ephrata; ABC Groff, New Holland; Heritage International, Ephrata and Stigger Diesel, New Holland.

A list of overall placings follows:

1. Daryl Martin, Ephrata R2; 2. Tom Good, Lititz R1; 3. Larry Horst, Narvon R1; 4. Robert Work, Peach Bottom R1; 5. Doug Pfautz, Lititz; 6. Donald Metz, Lancaster; 7. Ken Greider, Conestoga R2.

Simmental field day slated

MT. AIRY, Md. - Raven Wood Farm, Annapolis Rd., 3½ miles north west of Mt. Airy, Md., will host the Simmental Field Day on Sunday, October 14.

The days activities will include a display of cattle in the barn and various calf judging contests.

Two speakers will be featured during the day. They include: Mr. Wallcae, a beef specialist from Select Sire, Ohio, and Dr. Keith Inskeep, a specialist in heat syncronization of cattle.

The activities will be held from 1-4 p.m. Refreshments will be served including charcoal cooked beef.

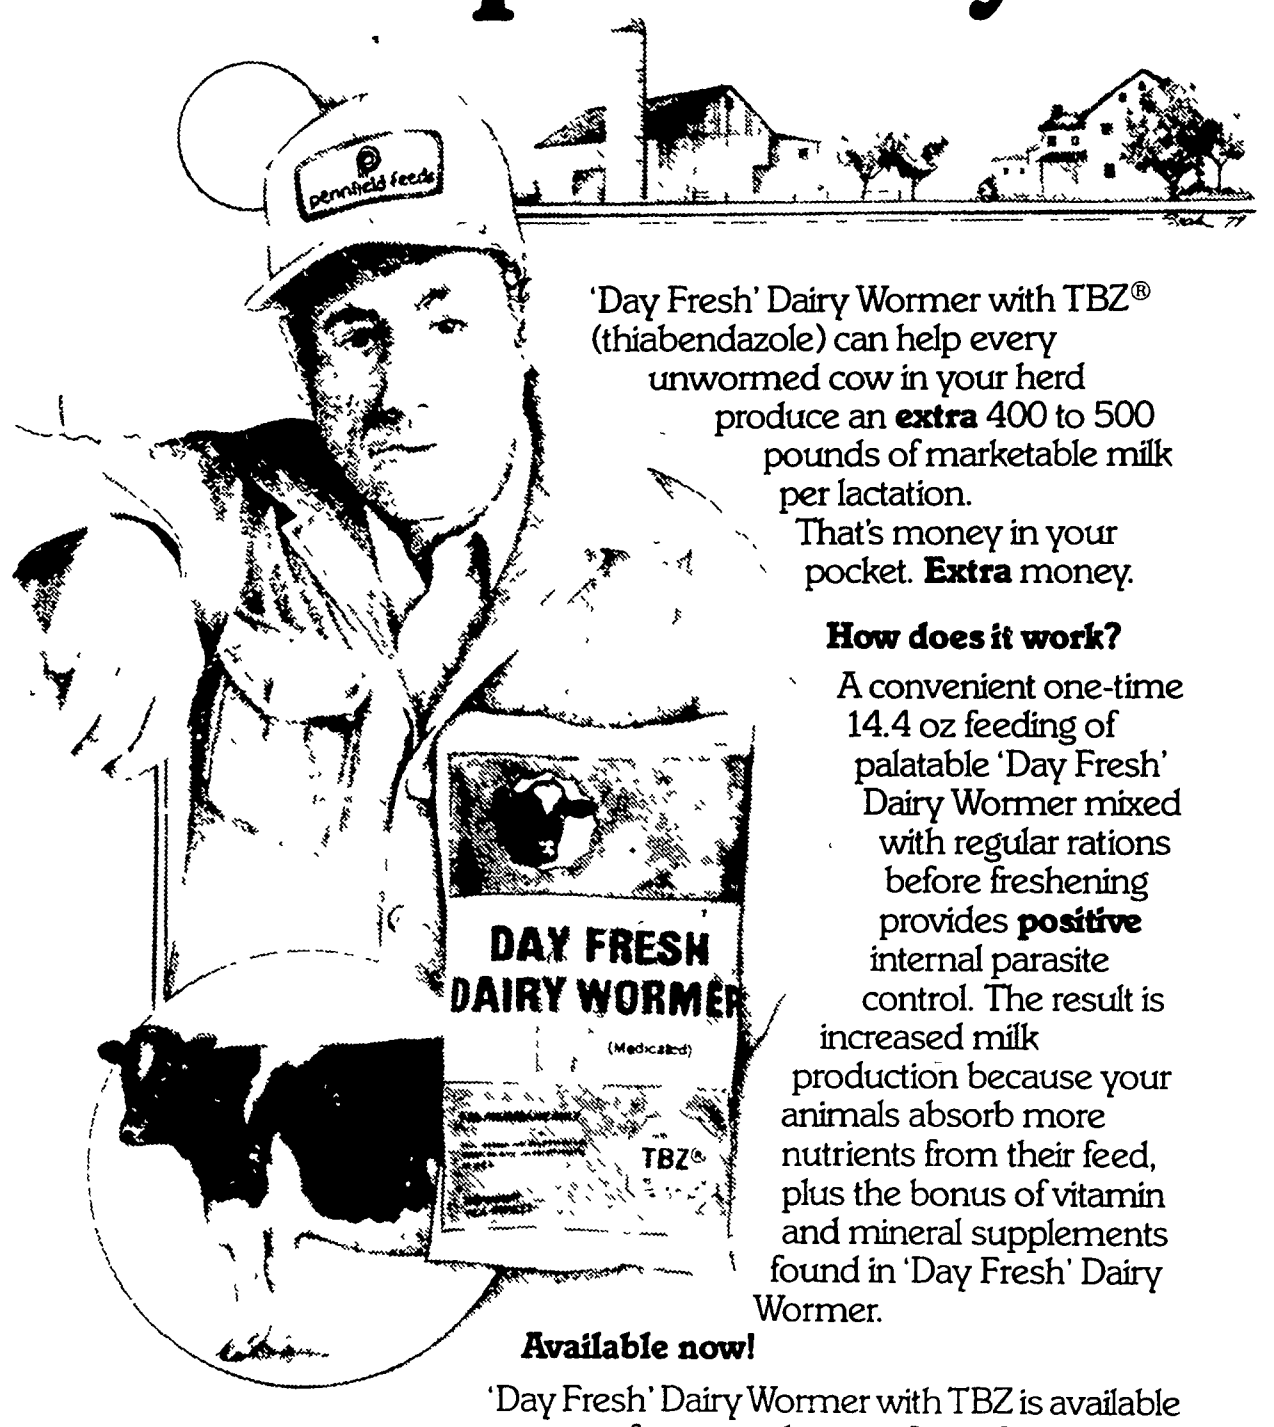
'Day Fresh' Dairy Wormer means extra milk, and extra milk means extra profit for you.



'Day Fresh' Dairy Wormer with TBZ® (thiabendazole) can help every unwormed cow in your herd produce an extra 400 to 500 pounds of marketable milk per lactation. That's money in your pocket. Extra money.

How does it work?

A convenient one-time 14.4 oz feeding of palatable 'Day Fresh' Dairy Wormer mixed with regular rations before freshening provides positive internal parasite control. The result is increased milk production because your animals absorb more nutrients from their feed, plus the bonus of vitamin and mineral supplements found in 'Day Fresh' Dairy Wormer.

Available now!

'Day Fresh' Dairy Wormer with TBZ is available now at your farm supply store. Look for your dealer's special 'Day Fresh' Dairy Wormer display. The bright orange 'Day Fresh' foil pouch — which prevents spoilage — is your sign that extra milk profits are on the way.

Grand champion steer sells for over $5 grand

By SHEILA MILLER

NEW HOLLAND – When the auctioneer's gavel came down on block in the New Holland Stockyard's sale barn, the crowd of buyers and on-lookers cheered. Rusty, the 1250 pound grand champion steer, had just earned eight year old Fred Weaver $5.30 for each of his champion pounds.

The 4-H steer was sold at the baby beef sale on Thursday, just after having taken top honors in this year's New Holland fair. The steer was purchased by Hubert Kranich of People's Restaurant of New Holland.

The reserve champion was next on the block. Kathy Martin's 1130 pound Hereford steer sold for $4.30 a pound. Paul Smucker, of Bird-in-Hand Restaurant, bought this baby beef.

A total of 29 4-H steers were auctioned off at the New Holland club's sale.

A beaming Fred Weaver, sold his 1250 pound Hereford steer to People's Restaurant of New Holland for over $6,000. Hubert Kranich, owner, is pictured with Fred and Rusty.

Lebanon Co. 4-H leaders recognized

LEBANON — Leaders, supporters, and legislators of the 4-H program were on hand for the Lebanon County Leader Recognition Banquet. The annual event, held Tuesday at the Friendship Fire Hall in Lebanon, celebrates the contribution that over 250 Lebanon county individuals and organizations make for the active 4-H youth program.

Many of the county's volunteers were present to receive certificates and pins for their years of service to the program from Alletta Schadler, County Extension Director and Linda Rohrbach, 4-H Agent. Representatives of the organizations, individuals, and businesses who support 4-H through financial support or contributions of supplies were presented with Friends of 4-H Certificates. Elected officials from the county and state government were introduced. They were: County Commissioners - John Anspach, Tom Behney, and Phil Feather; Representatives - Nick Moehlmann and Senator Manbeck.

Two Outstanding 4-H'ers were the recipients of scholarships provided by People's National Bank. Robert Edris, People's Controller, presented $250 scholarships to the parents of Beverly Hale and Melissa Weaver. Hale is a freshman at Purdue University and recipient of the Home Economics scholarship. Weaver is a freshman at Elizabethtown College and recipient of the Agriculture award.

Linda Rohrbach, Lebanon County 4-H Agent, presents awards to the volunteer leaders of Lebanon County at a recent banquet. Mr. Victor Bomgardner has been a leader of the Livestock Club for 23 years. Marilyn Zeager, center, represents the 39 first year volunteers. Marilyn has helped with the Palmyra Cougars Club.

Volunteers ' present to receive certificates and pins were: first year - Mary Allwein, Mrs. Victor Bomgardner, Sandra Brandt, Kirby Horst, Barbara Johnson, Gloria Pavone, Hope Saam, and Marilyn Zeager; second year - Patrick Arnold, Clarence Bachert, Mary Ellen Barry, Dros Gerber, Connie Horst, Elaine Kohr, Karen Sellers, Annetta Showers, George Smith, and Nadine Young; third year - Lillian Ebersole, Bruce Hellerick, Donald Hoffer, Martin Kleiner, and Lorraine Royer; fourth year - Elizabeth Arnold, Sandra Bachert, Rosanne Bolles, Walter Bolles, Karen Kleiner, and Sandra Smith; fifth year - Sherry Hoffer, and Homer Kreider; sixth year - Ethel Bollinger, Linda Boyer, June Brummer, and Faye Kreider; seventh year - Marilyn Balmer, Marlin Bollinger, Mrs. Raeu Eberly, Alvena Kneasel, and Richard Kreider; ninth year - Christine Beuchler; tenth year - Joseph Eckenrode, Mrs. William LeRoy, Marguerite Noll, and Mrs. Earl Rittle; 12th year - John Balmer, Betty Blauch, Charles Bomgardner, and Nancy Hoke; 13th year - Janis Horst; 14th year - Phyllis Paine; 15th year - Mrs. Luke Hostetter; 16th year - Harold Sellers; 20th year - Mrs. Charles Lineaweaver. Recognized for over 20 years of service were: 21st year - Mrs. Lester

In the Leader's Organization business meeting new officers were elected. They include: Judy Leroy, president, for the second consecutive year; Connie Hurst, secretary, Lorraine Boyer-vice president and Marilyn Balmer-treasurer. Boyer and Balmer were not available for picture.

THANK YOU

The fire on June 1 caused us many hardships, inconveniences, and problems.

We wish to express our gratitude and appreciation to the fire companies—their services during and after the fire were outstanding.

Many thanks to our customers and suppliers who extended to us their patience, understanding and assistance.

Our rebuilding and production problems are now at 100%.

Again, THANKS TO ALL OF YOU!

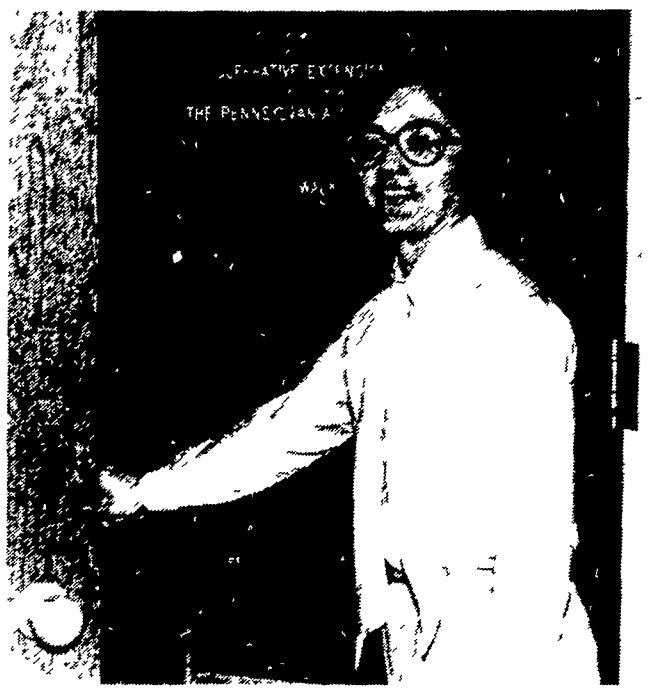
Doyles serves as Lancaster's Home Economist

LANCASTER — Susan Doyles is a new and familiar face to the Lancaster County Extension Office. As Lancaster County's Extension Home Economist, she is a new face. Susan will be the acting economist as Doris Thomas undertakes a graduate program at Penn State's capital campus.

She is also familiar since she worked in the Extension office as a nutrition assistant seven years ago. Her talents have also been used to teach sewing seminars in the county. Her most recent responsibility has been teaching adult education courses in the Hempfield School District.



Susan Doyles is presently serving as the Lancaster Extension's Home Economist. She has been active with the Extension over the years, and will work in this capacity while Doris Thomas studies at Penn State.

As a resident of Manheim Township, Susan and her husband have six year old twins and a 13 month old child. Her husband is presently employed with an insurance company.

She majored in home economics and earned a B.S. degree from Juniata College in 1967.

The main repsonsibilites of the home economist position at the present time is supervising the nutrition aid program, according to Susan. This involves visiting agencies and conducting inservice programs for the project leaders.

She will continue to write the various columns, complete the radio spots, and supervise the scheduled seminars at the Extension office.

As a member of the Trinity Lutheran Church, Susan is active in the church choir and is excited about the 250th anniversary of the church.

During the Spring and Summer months she is a volunteer tour guide with the Lancaster walking tours and has served on the board.

Susan began her present position on September 17 and will continue through March.

Catastrophe

The destruction of Pompeii, Italy more than 1,900 years ago still ranks as the world's greatest catastrophe, according many observers Mt. Vesuvius, a volcano, woke Pompeii's 25,000 residents on the morning of August 24 in the year 79 A D Pompeii and two nearby towns were quickly covered under a layer of black volcanic pumice — killing more than 18,000 people.

BUILD STRONGER YIELDS WITH TROJAN T1008

There's a special science to creating stronger, more productive hybrids for your unique combination of soil and weather conditions.

And no one applies that science more skillfully than the creators of Trojan hybrids

Take Trojan T1008, for example

Just try and find a 100-day hybrid with more of the proven yield-building characteristics you're looking for this year

TROJAN T1008 FOR SEEDLING VIGOR.

This hybrid is beautifully adapted to this area's early growing conditions

It comes out of the ground fast, ready and able to take on the stress and rigors of the growing season.

TROJAN T1008 RESPONDS TO HIGH POPULATIONS.

If you know this hybrid, you know that it responds to high populations with significantly higher yields.

TROJAN T1008 FOR DRYDOWN.

This Trojan hybrid's exceptional drydown is no accident

Because we know how important it is for you to harvest good dry corn

MORE GREAT TROJAN HYBRIDS.

T1008 is only one of many superior Trojan hybrids When you see your Pfizer Genetics Dealer, also ask him about

New Trojan T1058. This sturdy 105-day hybrid adapts well to all kinds of soil conditions, with outstanding drought tolerance and drydown

New Trojan T1189. This new 118-day hybrid combines disease tolerance and standability with high yield potential

THE STRONGER THE RESEARCH, THE STRONGER THE HYBRID.

"Genetics" is our last name for a reason

More than just "selling seed," our business is the research and development of new varieties to produce stronger yields on your farm

The industry's finest research team is at work, day in and day out, making Pfizer Genetics the name to count on, not just for bigger yields, but built-in profitability

Get the results of this special science today See your Pfizer Genetics Dealer

4-H Volunteers are a valuable asset

LEBANON - Volunteers in the Lebanon County 4-H program provide approximately $155,220 worth of support to the County 4-H program through their contributions of time, materials, and mileage. Linda Rohrbach, 4-H Agent, announced these statistics at the Leader Recognition Banquet held Tuesday night in Lebanon.

According to Rohrbach, there were over 160 4-H volunteers in Lebanon County in 1979. Using statistics derived from a national study of 4-H volunteers, she estimates that the average 4-H leader contributes 25-eight hour days annually. In addition, leaders provide materials to 4-H'ers, sometimes unknowingly. "There are many leaders who find that 4-H'ers forget and walk off with their pen or who perhaps supply a small piece of interfacing or a teaspoon of vanilla. At the time, it may not seem like much, but it can add up. But, keep in mind, the average leader contributes about $50. That means that a lot of leaders contribute less than that amount."

Mileage approximations also figure into the $155,200 total. The national study showed an average of 400 miles per year. At the accepted rate of 17 cents per mile, that amounts to $68 per year in 4-H mileage.

Time, materials, and mileage contributions amount to about $970 for the average Lebanon County volunteer. "Luckily, that's not all out-of-pocket expense," says Rohrbach. "Only about $110 is earned money and even some of that is tax-deductible; not many volunteers realize that."

The $970 average in kind contributions from the 160 4-H volunteers amount to a whopping $155,220 input to the county program.

Rohrbach emphasizes that 4-H volunteers are not looked upon as financial resources. "We do need financial contributions but we also need human resources - people who like to work with 4-H youth, people who have skills, talents, and enthusiasm to share with 4-H'ers. However, the time they contribute does make a strong case for continued volunteer leadership in the 4-H program."

Volunteers can do any kind of job ranging from organizing club meetings, teaching a wide variety of projects including woodworking, plant science, pets, foods, crafts, livestock, and unlimited others, helping with county wide events, and designing graphics. All skills are utilized in an active county program.

Persons interested in contributing to the 4-H program should contact their county 4-H offices. In Lebanon County, the number is (717) 273-3748.

Cindy Risser extends horizons with 4-H involvement

By DEBRA STRICKLER

LEOLA - "Expanding Horizons" is the theme of the upcoming 1979 National 4-H Week, October 7-13. This week is set aside each year to publicize the 4-H program across the nation. An outstanding Lancaster County 4-H'er, Cindy Risser, is an example of how involvement in the 4-H program can expand an individuals horizons.

Cindy, the 15 year old daughter of Allen and Ida Risser of Schreiner Road, Leola, is presently serving as co-president of the County 4-H Council. In her seven years as a 4-H member, Cindy has undertaken numerous projects. She began her 4-H career at nine years of age with six projects. These projects included dairy, swine, sewing, cooking, geology, and outdoor flowers.

With four older brothers and sisters active in 4-H and a mother that serves as a volunteer leader in the Manheim Township Community Club, Cindy was encouraged to become involved at an early age. She readily admits that on occasion there was competition between her and other family members. Her brother, Phillip, was a major competitor each year in the geology project.

Cindy maintains a 500 square foot flower garden as a part of her outdoor flower project. She has sold flowers to Stauffer's and donates bouquets to various special dinners. The flower project has encouraged her involvement in various judging contests.

In particular, she participated in horticulture judging as an individual in 1977 and initiated a team in 1978. She earned highest place in state competition and led the county team to the National Junior Horticulture Associaiton Convention in Cleveland, Ohio last October. In this competition, the team had to judge flowers, vegetables, fruits, nuts, and ornamentals. They competed with 4-H and FFA teams from across the country. Cindy placed ninth in the individual competition while her team placed sixth. They were not permitted to compete at a state level this year, so the members competed on a vegetable judging team in which they identified weeds, insects, and ranked vegetables according to their quality.

Although Cindy initially had six projects she has added some additional projects over the year. These include pet care, handyman, veterinarian science and wildlife.

As a teen leader, at the young age of 14, Cindy has conducted foods clubs in the kitchen of her home for the past two summers. The first year she assisted her sister, Judy, and this past summer she guided the project on her own. Two separate classes were taught one night a week. The junior members used the "Tricks for Treats", the senior members used "Food with International Flavor" as project books. Cindy incorporated items from other projects and demonstrated the importance of a balanced meal at each meeting.

As a result of the teen leader program, she has grown personally. In her blue form, a record of all her project work, she writes, "led by my family, fellow members, and leaders, I'm involved and developing. As I start to lead others, I realize the satisfaction."

Cindy has represented her club in the County Council, a group of 4-H'ers who meet the third Wednesday of each month to carry out new ideas and programs of interest to all 4-H members in the county. This year she is serving as co-president with James Stauffer. Additional officers include Christine Musser-secretary, Karen Hostetter-treasurer, Jodi Zeamer-news reporter, Lisa King and Susan Howell coordinate the recreational activities. Glenn Shirk is presently serving as advisor.

In respect to County Council, Cindy is concerned about developing a 4-H Awareness Program to inform county 4-H members of the opportunities at the county, regional and state level. She would like to visit 4-H clubs across the county and explain to them how to get involved and develop more interest at the county

(Turn to Page 39)

As a member of the first place state horticulture judging team, Cindy had to judge ornamental bushes. She explains that this is a "Mock Orange" and is able to provide distinguishing characteristics.

Cindy Risser has been involved in 4-H for seven years. During these years she has accumulated many completed project books and numerous rosettes, a portion of which are shown here. The flowers were freshly chosen from her 500 square foot flower garden. The plaque was an award from the National Junior Horticultural Association competition.

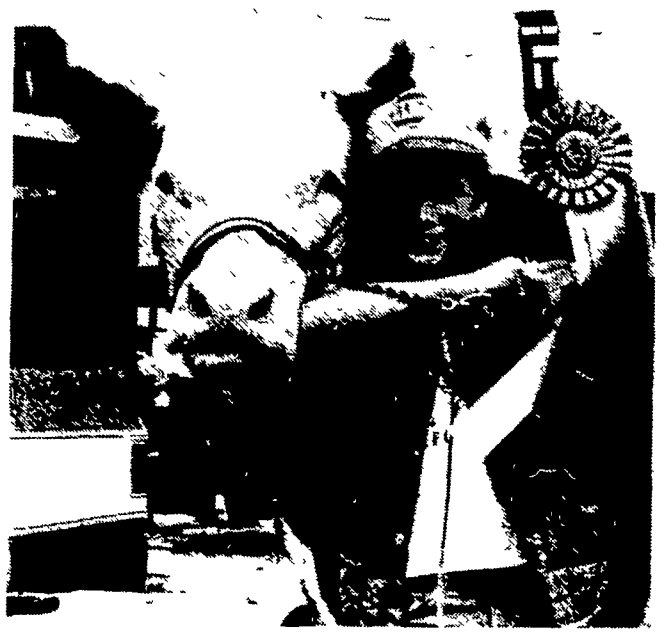
Hereford steers capture top honors at N. H. fair



Fred Weaver waves grand champion ribbon, won by his super steer.

By SHEILA MILLER

NEW HOLLAND – The grand and reserve champions in the New Holland 4-Hers' Baby Beef show were captured by Hereford steers. In very close competition, the heavyweight steer, Rusty, was awarded the top place, with his proud owner, Fred Weaver at his halter.

Fred is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Roy Weaver, Ephrata R1. Rusty won the heavyweight class for steers weighing over 1100 pounds, and then went on to win the grand champion title. His closest competitor in his class and for the best of show was a steer called Larry Norman, owned and exhibited by Kathy Martin.

Kathy Martin is the daughter of Robert Martin, New Holland R3. Kathy's 1130 pound steer won the reserve champion for the show and placed second to the Weaver steer in the heavyweight class. Kathy also secured the honors for best fiting in what may be her last year of competition in 4-H. 18 year old Kathy is employed as a secretary at Lancaster Mennonite High School and feels that preparing a steer for show and working full time may be too much to handle.

It won't be Fred's last year of showing steers. He is only eight years old (he'll be nine in November) and this is his first year of competition in 4-H. When asked how it felt to have won the grand championship, the 65 pound steer jockey smiled and said, "scarey"! This statement is quite understandable, since Fred's steer weighed 1250 pounds, the heaviest animal in the show.

Fred was not the only member of his family to take home honors. His sister, Emily, won junior showmanship. Senior showmanship was won by Darlene Huyard. Darlene is the daughter of Naomi Huyard, Lancaster.

The show was judged by Henry Gruber of A & B Packing, Allentown.

The show results are as follows:

Lightweight
(1030 pounds and under)

1. Ron Martin, Narvon; 2. Darlene Huyard, Gap; 3. Kathi Denlinger, Lancaster; 4. Jane Groff, Leola; 5. Randy Musselman, New Holland; 6. Krista Yost, Leola; 7. Stephanie Yost, Leola; 8 Jeff Bare, Witmer; 9. Steve Myers, Strasburg.

Middleweight
(1040-1080)

1. Lori Martin, Narvon; 2. Dale Hershey, Ronks; 3. Steve Hershey, Ronks; 4. Glenn Yoder, Morgantown; 5. Todd Denlinger, Gap; 6. Emily Weaver, Ephrata; 7. Janae Martin, New Holland; 8. Vicki Bare, Witmer; 9. David Fisher, East Earl; 10. Joanne Eberly, East Earl.

Heavyweight
(1100 pounds and up)

1. Fred Weaver, Ephrata; 2. Kathy Martin, New Holland; 3. Linda Martin, New Holland; 4. Gary Eberly, East Earl; 5. Tamie Groff, New Holland; 6. Joanne Groff, Lancaster; 7. Bill Martin, East Earl; 8. Marlin Groff, Lancaster; 9. Sharon Martin, East Earl; 10. Audrey Hoover, Gap.

Kathy Martin was smiling about her steer, Larry Norman, taking the reserve champion honors, at Thursday's New Holland fair.

Shatter cane

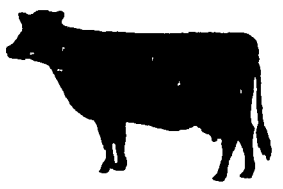
Although the family moved a lot, Miss Marion often managed to keep a horse and she developed an abiding interest in animals.

When her father retired to Reading four years ago, she enrolled in Penn State's pre-vet course, but switched to her double major when she learned that getting into a veterinarian school was only slightly less difficult than getting into NASA's moon program

While she was at Penn State, she worked in the University's dairy barns, getting much of the practical experience she missed by not growing up on a farm.

She is now at Garden Spot High School for a term of student teaching The shattercane field project was suggested to her by another teacher there, Robert Anderson, and she's had a lot of help in locating farms from Donald Robinson

She said she is working with some 39 farmers in the area, trying to figure out a good control program for the weed. There are herbicides on the market which can control shattercane, Miss Marion said, but many of the area farmers haven't gotten the word on when and how to use them.



Donna Marion, who'll graduate next month from Penn State, is currently student teaching at Garden Spot High School in New Holland. Her most ambitious project there is helping area farmers develop a program to control shattercane like these specimens on a field just a few miles from the high school.

Holstein competition concludes All-American

HARRISBURG — The Pennsylvania All-American Dairy Show concluded its five-days of events at the Farm Show Complex in Harrisburg with the wrap-up of the 1979 Eastern National Holstein and Junior Holstein competition.

First place exhibitors from Pennsylvania included Singing Brook Farms of Imler, Bedford County, and David N. Bomgardner of Mil-Harv-Farms, Annville, Lebanon County.

Kingstead Farms of Damascus, Maryland, was named Premier Breeder of the show. Premier Sire award went to "Round Oak Rag Apple Elevation," owned by Select Sire, of Plain City, Ohio.

Pinehurst Farms of Sheboygan Falls, Wisconsin, captured the Premier Exhibitor title and showed the grand champion female during the two-day Holstein show. "Heersche Complete Jewelry" won the cow, five years and older, division, best udder class and went on to be named senior champion female, and finally, grand champion female. Pinehurst Farms also received numerous other awards during the Holstein show.

The reserve grand champion female award went to "Strickler Double Cinders," owned by Quietcove Holstein Farm, Wapakoneta, Ohio.

"Wagnercrest Tamlane Ella," owned by Queens Manor Holsteins of Jamestown, Maryland, took reserve junior champion female honors.

"Seqya Stella D Conzallies -OC," a senior yearling bull owned by Seaqua Farms of Daleville, Indiana, was named junior champion bull. Reserve junior champion bull honors went to "Moss Oak Unique Royalty," a bull calf owned by Raymond Cooper of Sheboygan Falls, Wisconsin.

Teresa Myers of Harrisonburg, Virginia, exhibited the grand champion female during the Eastern National Junior Holstein Show. The cow, "Walkup Astronaut Lou Ann," was the winner of the cow, three years and older class, and was also named senior champion.

"Penn-Octo Kenny Edsel," shown by Bernice M. Potter of Truxton, NY, was named reserve grand champion female. Junior champion of the junior show was awarded to "O-C-S Dairy Elevation Katie," shown by Debra Smith. The animal was also junior champ of the open Holstein show. Senior yearling heifer "Sleepy-Meadows Sunny Moonshine," shown by Steven Shafer of Easton, Ohio, was the reserve junior champion female of the junior Holstein show.

Judge for the open and junior show was J. Douglas Fellers of Hays, Kansas.

York swine producers attend national show

STEWARTSTOWN - Mrs. J.C. Strawbridge & McCleary, of Stewartstown will be exhibitors at the 1979 North American International Livestock Exposition, according to Harold Workman, Manager of the Expo. Workman said that Strawbridge & McCleary have entered Hampshire Swine for competition at the North American International, an event which will take place during November 3-17 in Louisville, Kentucky. The NAILE will again be held at the Kentucky Fair and Exposition Center.

Messick sponsors E-town tractor contest

ELIZABETHTOWN—A Tractor driving contest was to be held in conjunction with the Elizabethtown Fair. As a result of inclement weather it was rescheduled to September 29.

The contest was divded into three categories. The ten contestants had to drive a tractor and manure spreader through an obstacle course, back a wagon into a stall, and operate a tractor and harvester with forage box.

The activities were sponsored by Messick Farm Equipment.

The winners were: 1. Doug Witman, Mt. Joy, 2. Gilbert Martin, Elizabethtown, R3; 3.Joe Wivell, Mt. Joy, and 4.James Hershey, Elizabethtown R3.

Crop reference booklet

ST. LOUIS, Mo. - The Gold Book, a pocket-size, easy to use, crop selection and management guide, has been updated and regionalized for 1980 and is now available to farmers. This annual crop management compendium is offered by Pfizer Genetics Inc., producers of Trojan brand hybrids and Pfizer Genetics soybean and sorghum seed. The booklet provides valuable, concise crop management information and extra note paper pages for a farmer's individual notations and calculations.

The tenth edition is being published in six regionalized versions. Each version will contain information specifically attuned to regional crop production needs, environmental conditions and climate.

Such information will include comparative charts of all Pfizer Genetics seed varieties appropriate for each area, describing plant characteristics and management recommendations that allow each variety to perform at its optimum.

It also includes planter plate information and recommendations, provides formulas for chemical application calibration, pesticide dilutions, plant nutrient requirements, bushel conversions, adjusting yields to 15.5% moisture, weights and measures, metric conversions, irrigation measurements and general farm math. It also lists guidelines for plant populations, yield goals, varietal selections, fertilizer and pesticide rates, and silage production.

Copies of the Gold Book are available from Pfizer Genetics dealers.

of the 1973 Meats Judging team. She was also an active member of the Block and Bridle Club, and served as corresponding secretary. During the 1973 and 1974 Little International Livestock Expo, she showed an Anglo-Arab colt and an Angus heifer.

Sheila's interest in showing cattle landed her a part-time job after graduation with a Gettysburg farmer, David Simpson. She showed a string of registered Charolais cattle at the 1975 Penna. Farm Show for Great Oaks Farm.

At the present time, Sheila and Mike are in the cattle business in a small way. This summer, they invested in four registered Polled Hereford cattle, and plan to show their heifer and bull calves at this year's Farm Show.

Along with their cattle, the Miller's have two horses which they ride for pleasure. They are interested in eventually having a driving horse in order to make use of their antique sleighs and buggies. "We became interested in carriages and driving through friends of ours in Berks County," commented Sheila. "Now, we have a top buggy, two sleighs, a two-wheel cart on iron, and loads of driving accessories. If the gas crunch gets too bad, we want to be prepared!"

Sheila also raises Irish Setters as a hobby. "I was given my first Irish Setter while I was still a student at Penn State," she said. This past August, Sheila's second Irish Setter gave birth to nine puppies. "It was my first litter of puppies," laughed Sheila. "On the farm we always had tons of kittens and calves, but never puppies. It was a real experience."

Other activities which Sheila enjoys include sewing, knitting, needlework and cooking. Farm work, which other folks might find to be a chore, she loves to do. "I've always helped my parents with the farm work, from feeding livestock to cultivating corn. It's hard work, but it's satisfying."

Sheila also said she is looking forward to her career with Lancaster Farming. "I like to write, and this job gives me a chance to work very closely with farm people. It's going to be great."

el. Her words of en-uragement to young 4-ers is "stay involved - ere are more and more ngs to do."

This summer the County uncil coordinated an change trip with 4-H'ers in sconsin. Exchange trips ovide opportunity for 4-ers to visit other areas of U.S. and learn of dif-ent lifestyles. For Cindy, s trip meant visiting a 0 acre dairy farm with 75 ws. The acreage sounds big, but Cindy explains that there is less production per acre in the Midwest.

Presently the Lancaster County 4-H Council is planning a halloween party for October 17. In November, they will sponsor a dance complete with disc jockey and extend invitations to 4-H members in a six county area. This provides an opportunity to become acquainted and gain new ideas from 4-H'ers in other areas. The officers are also developing plans for a Christmas service project in December.

The 4-H projects and county involvement seem to be enough to keep Cindy busy. However she lives on a 107 acre farm and is responsible for the feeding of the calves and heifers every morning and evening. She arises at 5:30 a.m. to complete the chores and prepare for a day of school at Manheim Township. As a junior, she plays the flute in the marching band. Football games and band competitions add to her busy schedule.

In the future, Cindy is considering a career in science research or social work, possibly a combination of the two. Her career goals clearly stem from her 4-H involvement. For Cindy, her involvement in this program has increased her horizon and has given her "an urge to learn of everything."

York County 4-H Achievement Day

The annual York County 4-H Achievement Day will be held Sunday, October 14th beginning at 2:00 p.m. at the 4-H Center near Bair.

Fifty-seven outstanding 4-H'ers will receive recognition for excellence in project work, leadership ability and program participation.

The top four acts of talent auditions held earlier will perform to add some variety to the program.

Performing will be Lee Anne and Dee Anne Michaels, a piano duet entitled "Danse Miscabe; Gwen Ochsenbein singing "I Write The Songs"; Annette and Audrey Shermeyer doing a dance routine; and Hans Spahr, a piano solo entitled, "Cazone Neapalitane." The four acts will be judged and placed to receive cash awards.

The 4-H King and Queen for 1980 will be selected from 6 finalists. The queen contestants are Kathy Rauhauser, Dover; Linda Brown, Loganville; and Nancy Eisenhart, Thomasville. The king contestants are Bryan Palmer, Shrewsbury; Derek Lasher, Glen Rock; and Dwayne Gracey, Jefferson. The main responsibilities of the king and queen will be promotion of the 4-H program through talks, TV programs, radio spots, etc.

All 4-H families and friends are invited to join the excitement at the annual Achievement Day.

Helping youth in a volunteer capacity is as traditionally American as apple pie. If you can spend an hour or two a week to help build a better America by serving as a volunteer 4-H leader, see your county Extension agent.

Record price paid for market hog in Berks Co.

By LAUREL SCHAEFFER
Staff Correspondent

LEESPORT - Berks Co.'s all time record high sale price for a 4-H market hog sale was broken last week. The top hog, shown by Terry Snyder, 14, was sold at the Leesport Market and Auction at a price two dollars over the previous record price per pound.

Terry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Snyder, Hamburg R2. Terry sold his Grand Champion Duroc crossbred gilt for $5.20 per pound. The prize-winning gilt weighed in at 220 pounds.

The purchaser of the Grand Champion was Hatfield Packing for a total price of $1,144.00.

Terry has been showing hogs in 4-H for the past three years. He has shown the reserve champion in his weight class in previous years, but he never takes grand champion honors until this year. Terry attends Stoney Creek Middle School.

The Reserve Grand Champion hog was shown by Allen Rohrbach, 16. Allen's hog, a Hampshire-cross barrow, weighing 235 pounds, was also the reserve champion mediumweight. It sold for $2.90 per pound to Muthard's Meat Market, Reading.

Allen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Rohrbach,

$37,000 in the 1978 Curtiss Classic — Dam of CHARACTER

Right in line with Curtiss tradition, CHARACTER has character! He's a tall, stylish, dairy bull with a pedigree that spells e-l-i-t-e—in terms of show-winning type and pipeline-bursting production alike!

CHARACTER is by Roybrook Starlite and out of the famous "Cinderella" daughter of Paclamar Astronaut.

You know the "Cinderella" story. A 30,000 lb. producer scored "2E-94" . . . a successful show cow on her way toward super brood cow honors.

Put it all together and you have PENN-SPRINGS CHARACTER—quite possibly the most promising young man on four legs in North America today.

Write or call for his complete pedigree today. Or better yet, ask your Curtiss Distributor.

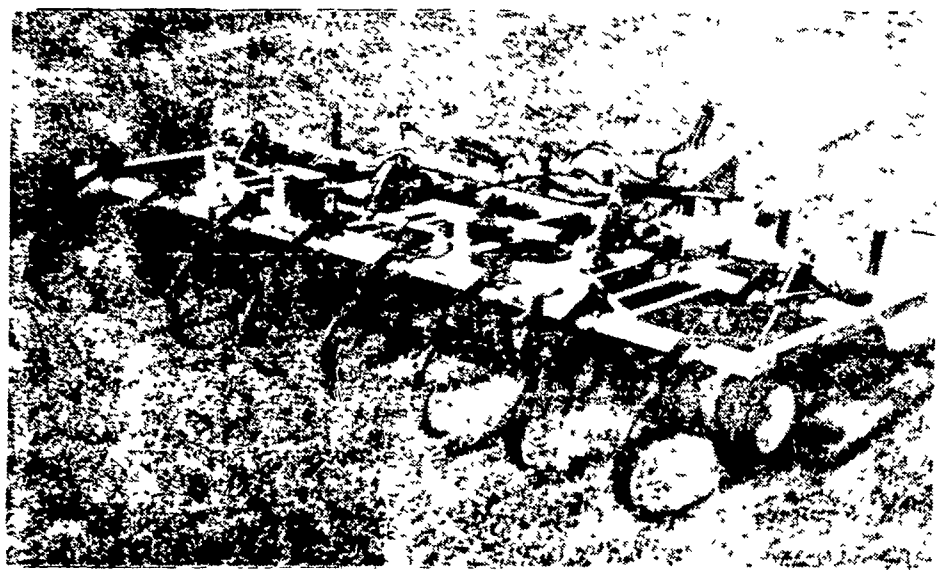
SOIL-MASTER®

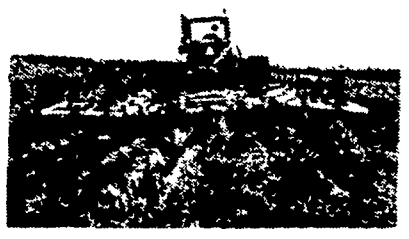
NEW 15-SHANK WING MODEL



This is Landoll's newest Soil-Master—the perfect primary tillage system for your farm One trip through your fields, in the fall or early spring, protects your valuable soil Saves you time, money, & energy Profitable soil management is yours with the Landoll 15-Shank Soil-Master

- 180° Folding Wings
- 18'9" Cutting Width
- Rigid or Spring Shanks
- Built for Hi-Speed Farming Practices

Just right for your SOIL MANAGEMENT PROGRAM

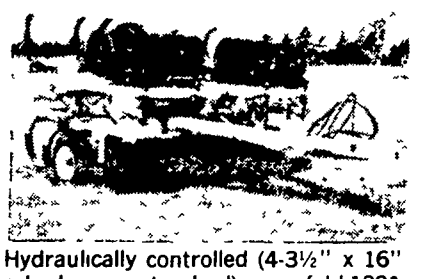


Wings flex (up & down) for working terraces and uneven ground

The Guiding Principles of Fall Tillage

1 To penetrate deep enough to remove compaction zones
2 To properly incorporate residues, leaving enough on the surface to assure water insoak and prevent errosion
3 To leave the soil in a ridged position
4 To have the ability to accomplish these goals in a one-trip operation

LANDOLL SOIL-MASTER® does it all!



Hydraulically controlled (4-3½" x 16" cylinders are standard) wings fold 180° providing transport width 10'7" Easy to transport—Easy to shed

The ATTA GLANCE COW DIARY

The simplest, most economical dairy breeding record available, keeps your entire herd's yearly breeding record constantly available, Atta Glance

50 cow size costs $44 95
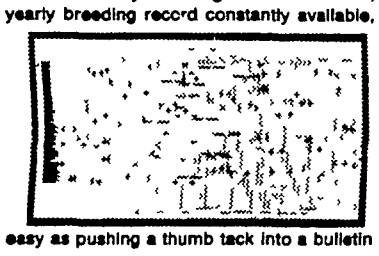
is 24" x 42", has mounting straps, and can be wiped clean



Keeping records is as easy as pushing a thumb tack into a bulletin board

Each cow's name or number is placed in the left margin on any of the 50 horizontal lines using embossing tape (shown above) or use felt tip or grease pens Color coded pins are then placed on that line to record the dates of breeding and freshening

CHORE-TIME

BUILT TO LAST!

CHORE-TIME BRINGS YOU THE AIR SYSTEM WITH A MIND OF IT'S OWN!

Until now, most ventilation systems had one drawback. Air inlets had to be opened and closed by hand.

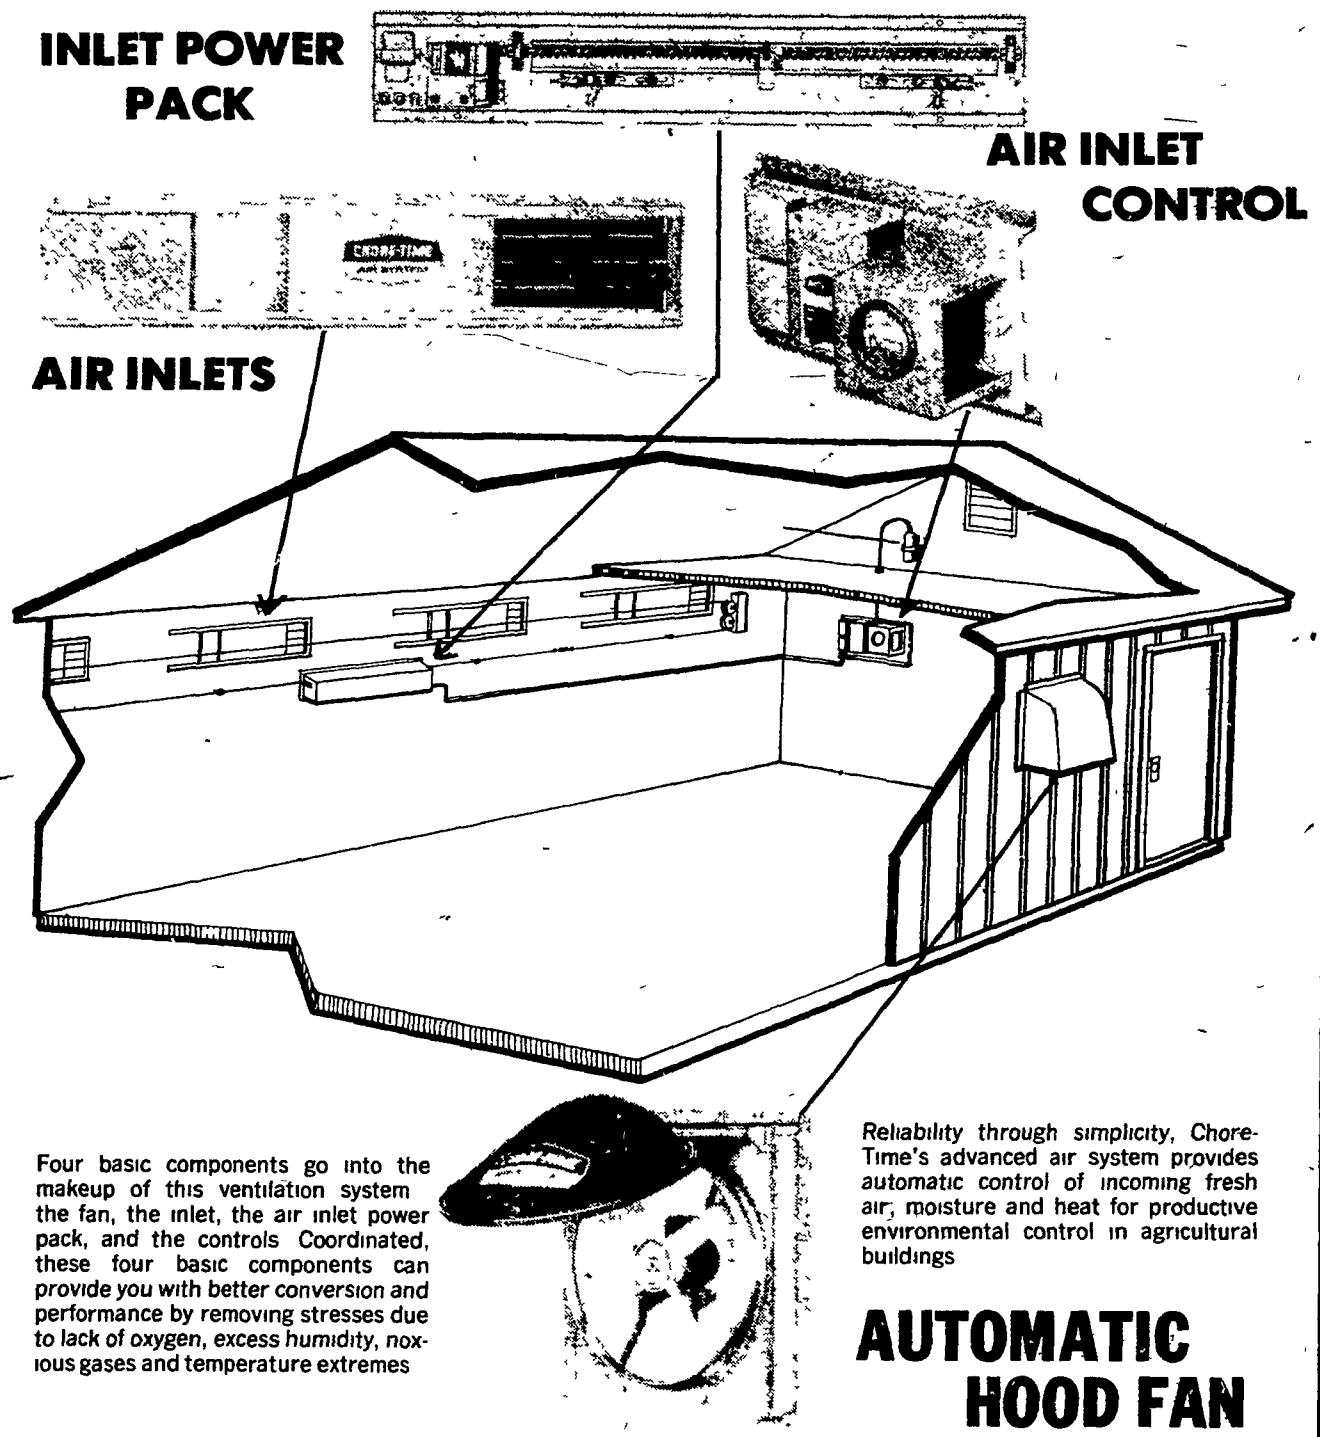
This was time consuming — and pretty much a matter of guesswork.

Now, Chore-Time has eliminated this problem.

The Chore-Time system has a mind of its own and adjusts inlets — in conjunction with fan operation — to maintain air pressure at a constant, preset level.

This provides a degree of air and moisture accuracy never before possible in poultry and livestock buildings.

The new inlet control (pictured) is just one of many exclusive features that make Chore-Time air systems number one in performance and reliability.



Four basic components go into the makeup of this ventilation system the fan, the inlet, the air inlet power pack, and the controls Coordinated, these four basic components can provide you with better conversion and performance by removing stresses due to lack of oxygen, excess humidity, noxious gases and temperature extremes

Reliability through simplicity, Chore-Time's advanced air system provides automatic control of incoming fresh air, moisture and heat for productive environmental control in agricultural buildings

Raising popcorn — a challenge for Robert Nolt

By SALLY BAIR
Staff Writer

For Robert E. Nolt, Meadow Spring Road, growing popcorn is a challenge. A former dairy farmer who lives near Silver Springs in Lancaster County, Bob has been growing popcorn on a large part of his acreage for the last five years.

From 35 acres he has steadily increased his acreage at Meadow Spring Farm until this year he has 70 acres planted in popcorn.

He explained, It got to be fascinating. It is really a specialty crop."

Bob decided to go into popcorn growing because he had come to a crossroad in his dairy operation. "The equipment was wearing out and would have required a big investment, and the children didn't want to farm. So I decided to sell the cows and cash crop the farm." He said he grew field corn the first year and eventually had more corn than he had storage for so he sold it out of the field. "It was not the most profitable," he reflects.

At about the same time, Henry Reist of Reist Seed Company in Mount Joy invited Nolt to ride along to take a load of popcorn to New York. Reist's wife's father and Nolt were first cousins, so there was a family connection. After that trip Reist suggested to Nolt that he try to grow a few acres, and the result was a business arrangement and a growing acreage commitment from Nolt.

Nolt says, "Popcorn fit my program. It isn't a get rich quick deal. If corn prices don't get too wild, I'll make out okay." He grows his whole acreage under contract. He points out that the yield for popcorn is not quite as high as field corn. "You get about 50 bushels per acre. The kernels are much smaller."

In the course of the five years of planting and harvesting the popcorn, Nolt became somewhat of an expert in the special attention needed to grow corn. He is also an expert in the popping of the corn.

He says the secret in popping good corn is to have the proper amount of moisture in the kernel at the time of popping. Fourteen percent will get an excellent pop, but if it gets above 15 per cent the pop will not be as good. Similarly, popcorn can dry out, and will also not pop as well.

Because of the importance of moisture, his harvest of the corn is tied very closely to the moisture content, and he does not begin to harvest it until moisture is down to 20 per cent. It is dried to 14 per cent by Reist, with a very slow heat at 70 degrees.

Nolt believes, however, that the very best way to dry corn for popping is to let it dry naturally over the winter. He said he hung some in his barn, where it alternated between drying and swelling as the air moisture changed. He didn't pop any until spring, and he adds, "It was the best popping stuff."

For the homemaker, he has some good advice about storing the product after it is purchased in the store. "The easiest way to keep popcorn is to keep the container closed, or if you purchase it in plastic, store it in a jar in the refrigerator. This way there is no problem with moisture."

When popping he says, "Be sure and preheat the oil before adding the kernels. Otherwise it won't pop properly."

Nolt explained that the moisture in the kernel combines with heat and causes an explosion which produces the popcorn. Popcorn kernels expand to about 33-35 times their original size in the popping.

Nolt pointed out that popcorn is a good snack and very low in calories when popped in oil. He said the use of oil in the popping also helps the salt to adhere to the kernels for a good-tasting product.

Another favorite way of preparing the corn is to use ⅓ cup of sugar and 2 tablespoons instant chocolate to make a delicious, different snack. This treat can be made only in a popper with an agitator or the mix will burn.

But before the popping, there is a lot of effort that goes into the growing.

"You must be careful not to plant it too deep, and not to plant it too early. Cool weather retards growth," he states. On the other hand, he said it should be planted as early as possible, because it has been proven that earlier plantings of corn do not grow as tall as later ones. In popcorn this is an advantage because the stalk is not as strong as field corn and is more susceptible to wind damage later on. He adds that there is not as much research on popcorn as there is on field corn for developing stronger varieties.

He said he personally prefers to plant it as early as possible after the first frost. "I like to have three mornings of 50 degree ground temperatures at two inch depth. This year he was able to plant on April 26.

Nolt is quick to admit that he gained his knowledge through trial and error. "It became a challenge and got to be interesting. I found out the hard way not to plant too deep and not to use too much fertilizer. You must be precise in preparing the seedbed.

"I don't exactly use a no-til program. I use a minimum till program. Instead of plowing, I shred the fodder in the Fall as fine as possible. I then disc one time when the ground is dry, usually early in April." The ground must be loose, he points out, so that the kernel is sure to be covered. Popcorn seed is planted at a depth of only one inch.

With a minimum till program, however, he said you can't broadcast fertilizer effectively on top of the ground. If you do, when it rains the fertilizer will go into the little channels created by planting and burn the seed.

To solve this problem, Nolt designed his own fertilizer applicator. "The soil is tight on my farm and with a total no-till program it becomes tighter." He now uses a chisel plow with a fertilizer mounted on top.

He puts the fertilizer between the rows, which serves to aerate the soil. "When the feeder roots need the fertilizer," he says, "It will be there. It won't burn and it is there to be taken as needed."

Nolt said that the no-till method has been successful because of the use of herbicides. However, in popcorn growing, he noted, "There are only a few special herbicides which can be used because others leave a residue which would be harmful to a product used for human consumption."

Nolt calls popcorn growing "tricky but challenging." The growing season is 120 days, similar to field corn. From one to 21 inches, Nolt says the average person wouldn't know the difference in the two varieties. The difference becomes obvious when the stalk goes into tassel. The silk is bleached more white in color. The stalk of popcorn is also not as big, not as heavy, not as strong, and not as tall as field corn.

Popcorn must do most of its drying on the stalk, he states. Nolt uses a self-propelled two-row picker, which shells the corn directly onto a truck to be hauled to market. He said he doesn't store the popcorn on his farm because he would need to have rodent-free cribs for storage.

He said care must be taken not to damage the kernels of popcorn.

There are problems which develop in growing popcorn. One is beetle damage, just like in field corn, which means the corn may not pollinate correctly. Rain can also cause improper pollination. And, Nolt noted, if you plant early enough, worm damage will not be as great.

Now, if you're a popcorn fancier, you may wonder just where gourmet popcorn fits into the picture. According to Nolt, it is mostly in the selecting progress. It is graded very hard, so that it is uniform as much as possible. It is highly selected and packed specially as gourmet popcorn. "It means cleaning it harder, being more particular with the size and quality of the kernel and packaging it differently," Nolt summarizes.

He explained that Ridenbacher, one of the first in the gourmet popcorn business, develops his own seed. He did a lot of research and developed it originally, using test plots from Florida." Nolt pointed out that his popcorn is all packaged in glass jars, the best way to keep the moisture content right.

The popcorn that Nolt grows is "graded and scrubbed, then blended with corns from other areas of the county." He said this will ensure an even flavor, since all corn is grown under different ground conditions.

Right now, Nolt is anxiously awaiting the proper moisture content so he can begin harvest. The stalks are dry and conditions were just about right before heavy rains hit the county Monday. At this point the stalks become susceptible to wind damage and could go down if storms develop. Once down, harvest becomes impossible, except by hand. It is now a waiting game — and Nolt is hoping for good weather so the fields dry out promptly.

"This year will be tricky. It will be interesting to see what the yield is with the unusually wet summer," he states.

While Nolt has thoroughly enjoyed his popcorn business, he acknowledges that this may be his last year. He says, "My wife will retire this Fall, our kids are on their own, and we are both in good health. We will rent the farm and have some time to enjoy ourselves."

Nolt is a member of the West Hempfield Township Planning Commission, the Rotary Club and the Silver Springs Cemetary Association. He and his wife, Ann, belong to the Brethren Church in Mountville where he used to sing in the choir. He still uses his singing voice to lead the community Christmas carol sing each year. Nolt has been a school bus driver for Hempfield Schools for 24 years.

It is a cinch that he will not be idle if he gives up the popcorn growing. And no matter what his activities, he is certain to keep the corn popping in the kitchen of their large and historic farm home.

Nolt has adapted a self-propelled, two-row harvestor for popcorn picking. The equipment harvests and shells the popcorn directly onto a truck for shipment to Reist's Seed Company in Mount Joy.

Bob Nolt pours out the finished product after demonstrating the proper way of popping corn for best results. He is using a popper with an agitator.

Here's built-in strength and working features that some competitors consider options.

Farm Women Societies

Berks Co.
Society 8

Nomination of officers were made at the monthly meeting of the Berks County Farm Women Society 8 of Strausstown. Nominations are open until elections at the October meeting.

Prior to the meeting, members attended a Boscov's fashion show in Lebanon as guests of Society 2.

A ham on roll sandwich sale is scheduled for October 13. The sixteen members present approved to buy Christmas presents for the Hamburg Center and were informed that Berks Heim Bingo will be held November 15.

Gail Malsbury, chairlady, informed members that the family halloween party will be held October 14 at the Strausstown Fire Company at 1:30p.m. Society 10 and 11 and their families have been invited to enjoy a movie and refreshments.

Eleven members will attend the county convention today, October 6 at the agricultural center in Bern Township.

The membership chose an item made by Eleanor Wagner to be entered in the "Something from Nothing" contest at the county convention. Viola Yost gave a report that plans are completed for the coffee-tea hour at the convention.

Helen Shirey, president, informed the members of a youth project sponsored by the Farm Women Societies in recognition of the Year of the Child. A painting, drawing, or craft can be entered by children, ages 1-18, of Society members. All entries must be completed by the October meeting.

An invitation was received from Society 5 for their night of entertainment to be held on October 19 at 7:30p.m at the Womelsdorf Elementary School.

The October meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Shirley Breininger, Hamburg, R1.

York Co. Society 29

The Pine Grove Church hall was the location for the September 11 meeting of the York County Farm Women Society 29.

Mr. Harold Leiphart gave an informative talk on the "Red Lion Ambulance Association." Cancer dressings were made during the evening.

The society wishes to say thanks to all who helped make the picture taking project a success.

The next meeting will be held October 9 at the home of Betty Heffner where an election of officers will be held and the program will be "door swags."

York Co. Society 35

Joan Beck hosted the September meeting of the York County Farm Women Society 35. An enjoyable evenings was shared as Mrs. Virginia Beck presented her slided of the Holy Land.

Vicki Rohrbaugh, president, reminded the members of two up-coming events. A dinner theater will be held on October 19 and 20. The county convention will be on November 1.

The group discussed the leader-training homemaker's sessions which are to be presented by the home economists at the County Extension Service of York. Members signed up to attend the session of their choice.

The group also participated in York Mall's Charity Bazzaar. The activities will center around the theme, County Fair. This event is scheduled for November 2 and 3.

The next meeting will be held on Monday, October 8, at 7:30p.m. at the home of Vicki Rohrbaugh. Items for the bazzar will be priced and the "Something from Nothing," projects will be judged.

A Halloween party will be held on October 12 at the home of Judy Brenneman.

Junior Cooking Edition

In this week's Junior Cooking Edition we have included seasonal recipes. Apples are most plentiful this time of year and many mothers are busy preparing apple pies and applesauce. We do hope you will experiment with these recipes and find some that you enjoy.

Why not send us your favorite recipes? Send it to the Junior Cooking Edition, Lancaster Farming, Box 366, Lititz, Pa. 17543. Be sure to include your name, age, address, and a complete list of ingredients and directions.

APPLE DUMPLINGS

Dough

2 cups flour
2½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup shortening
½ cup milk

Sauce

1 cup brown sugar
1½ cups water
¼ cup butter
½ teaspoon cinnamon

six apples

Cut shortening into dry ingredients to form dough. Moisten ingredients with milk and form into ball. Roll dough and cut into squares.

Peel apples and cut in half. Place one apple half on each square. Wet edges of the dough and press into a ball around the apple. Set dumplings in a pan. Pour sauce over the pan and bake at 375 degrees F. for one hour.

Rachel Huyard, New Holland, Pa.

APPLE DANISH BARS

2½ cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup shortening
1 egg yolk plus water to make ⅔ cup
1 cup corn flakes
6-8 apples
¾ cup granulated sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 tablespoons lemon juice
1 egg white

Cut shortening into flour and salt mixture. Add egg yolk and water mixture. Roll half of dough to fit 10½ x 15 inch cookie sheet. Fit into bottom and up sides of pan. Sprinkle with corn flakes, top with apples and then sugar/cinnamon mixture. Add lemon juice. Roll out other half of dough and place over apples. Seal the edges.

Slash the top and brush with beaten egg white. Bake at 50 minutes at 370 degrees F.

While the bars are warm drizzle with the following sugar glaze.

Sugar Glaze

1 cup confectioners sugar
4-5 teaspoons milk

Yvette Rife, Age 12, Chambersburg, Pa.

APPLE JACK

15 apples
8 bananas
3 cups graham cracker crumbs
2 cups whipping cream
1 teaspoon cinnamon

Pare and slice or grate apples. Add sliced bananas, graham cracker crumbs, cinnamon and sugar. Whip the cream and add a little sugar and vanilla. Fold into mixture. Ingredients can be varied for personal taste.

Matilda Mast, Age 14, Dover, Del.

1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
3 cups chopped apples
1 cup butterscotch chips

Mix oil, sugar, and eggs together. Sift together and blend in the flour, cinnamon, baking soda, baking powder and salt. Stir in the chopped apples.

Spread in a 13x9 inch pan. Sprinkle with a cup of butterscotch chips. Bake at 325 degrees F for 15 minutes, then reduce heat to 300 degrees for 45 minutes. Serve plain or with whipped cream.

Mrs. John Glick, Gap, Pa.

BAKED STUFFED APPLES

6 large baking apples
1 cup sausage meat
1 teaspoon salt
honey, optional

Clean out the center of the apples by scooping out the cores and pulp. Be careful not to cut through to the bottom of the apples. Chop the pulp and combine it with the sausage meat and salt. Sweeten with honey, if desired. Stuff the apples with this mixture and place upright in a baking dish. Bake at 375 degrees F until tender, about 45 minutes. Serve with brown rice or noodles. Serves six.

Mrs. Ruth Ruoss, Blain, Pa.

WALDORF SALAD

1 cup diced celery
1 cup diced apples
½ cup walnuts or pecan meats
¾ cup mayonnaise or boiled dressing

Combine above ingredients and serve on lettuce. Makes six servings.

Mrs. Vernon Miller, Hershey, Pa.

APPLE DUMPLINGS

2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
⅓ cup shortening
½ cup milk

Syrup

1 cup sugar
½ cup butter
1½ cups water

Mix flour, baking powder, salt, sugar and shortening until crumbly. Slowly add milk and mix. Roll dough and cut into four pieces. Fill with apple slices and cover with syrup. The syrup mixture should be boiled for five minutes. Bake at 375 degrees F for 30 minutes.

Mrs. Warren Boyer, Hershey, Pa.

GLAZED APPLE'N FRANKS

1 tablespoon butter
2 teaspoons prepared mustard
¼ cup light corn syrup
4 frankfurters
2 tart apples, cored, pared and quartered

In skillet, melt butter. Blend in mustard and corn syrup. Add franks and apples. Cover and cook on low heat for 10 to 15 minutes, or until apples are tender. Turn once. Serve over rice, if desired. Makes two servings.

Mrs. Charles Biehl, Mertztown, Pa.

APPLE PUDDING

2 cups sugar
½ cup butter
2 eggs
1 cup chopped nuts
4 cups diced apples
2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking soda
½ teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon vanilla
dash of salt
¼ cup milk

Cream sugar and butter. Add eggs. Beat well. Add nuts and apples, and alternate dry ingredients with milk and vanilla. Pour into greased and floured pan, and bake for one hour at 350 degrees F. Serve with rum sauce, whipped cream or ice cream.

Mrs. Belinda Myers, Dallastown, Pa.

On being a farm wife

—And other hazards

JOYCE BUPP

Like practically every other farm wive I've ever met, I'm the resident "gopher". I "go-fer" this, and "go-fer" that, and "go-fer" anything else that's needed at a moment's notice.

I've made "go-fer" trips for everything from penicillin to parts, tires to twine, calves to concrete.

Requirements for being a "go-fer" are simple: a driver's license, the car (or truck) keys, and a clear, simple, easy-to-read map. It also helps if you happen to possess a Laborador Retriever-type nose that can sniff out a back-hills machinery shop at a half-mile.

"Go-fer" noses should, in fact, readily home in on mechanics, parts-desk clerks, cattle auction employees, state lab scientists, bull semen delivery trucks, a nearby fast food place and potty-shops if you travel with little farm people.

"Go-fers" do not usually work too heavily on Saturday nights. Or so I once thought.

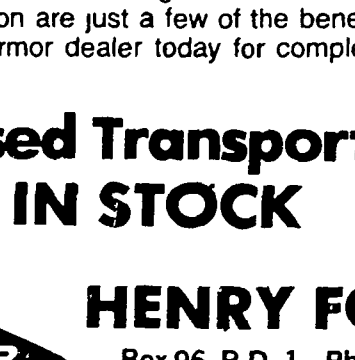
That Saturday brought rain, chill, and the installation of a new cattle feed conveyor to replace the decrepit metal and chain that had been masquerading as a piece of equipment. The tiresome job of replacement had been delayed for field work on sunny days and the wet weekend was a perfect time for throwing out the old and installing the new.

Except that the new turned up short seven feet of absolutely-necessary chain. At 5 p.m. on a Saturday afternoon. After all the equipment shops were closed and locked up. And there was positively no way to feed those 60 head of hungry dairy cows without that seven feet of chain.

An emergency phone call to the equipment business owner, who also happened to be a dairyman, brought the offer to set the piece of chain outside the locked up business where someone could find it. Guess who?

Drawing on all my "go-fer" experience, I zipped the forty miles across the river, beyond Lancaster, through the rain and fog and dark of night (just like the postmen) to safely whisk the crucial links back home. By 10:30 that night, the cows were finally eating their supper of warm silage.

I think I'll strike for time-and-a-half on Saturday nights the next time my "go-fer" contract comes up for negotiations.



Doris Thomas to receive fellowship

LANCASTER - Doris W. Thomas, Lancaster, will receive a $400 fellowship from the National Association of Extension Home Economists at their annual meeting in Richmond, Virginia, October 8-11.

Lancaster County Extension home economist on the staff of The Pennsylvania State University, Mrs. Thomas was selected in national competition on the basis of her well-balanced family living program. Her program makes use of part-time workers to teach skills in clothing construction, sewing for the home, the needle arts, and foods. She also supervises 12 aides in the Expanded Food and Nutrition Education Program.

As part of her educational program, Mrs. Thomas makes use of mass media to convey up-to-date information to her Lancaster County clientele. She writes newspaper columns and presents radio programs on a weekly basis, does television and produces a monthly newsletter.

A native of Quarryville, Mrs. Thomas received her bachelor of science degree from Hood College. She has been on the Lancaster County Extension staff since 1963, and will use her award to continue her graduate studies at Penn State's Capitol Campus.

Mrs. Thomas is a member of the National and State Associations of Extension Home Economists, the American and Pennsylvania Home Economics Associations. She served as president of the Pennsylvania Association of Extension Home Economists in 1974-75.

She and her husband, Charles W. Thomas are parents of a daughter.

Pa. meat packer charged

NEW YORK, N.Y. - Hillcrest Packing Co., Philadelphia, Pa., has been charged by the U.S. Department of Agriculture with violating financial and bonding requirements of the Packers and Stockyards (P&S) Act.

The firm buys livestock for slaughter in New Jersey, Delaware, south Pennsylvania, and northeastern Maryland.

In an administrative complaint, Hillcrest was charged with: Operating while its current liabilities exceeded its current assets; and Operating without the required bond.

Hillcrest is entitled to a hearing before an administrative law judge of the department. If the charges are proven, it would be placed under a cease and desist order.

Meat packers are required to maintain a solvent financial position and a reasonable bond. These are measures of financial protection for livestock sellers.

Ida's Notebook

Ida Risser

Sometimes, when I listen to young mothers talk, I am amazed that we managed to raise six children to responsible adulthood without all the advice and advantages which today's young mother is bombarded with. Today many youngsters attend dancing, swimming and gymnastics classes. Yet I've heard mothers say that little Susie or Jimmy is poorly adjusted to his class in school even though he spent 3 years in nursery and pre-nursery school. I am of the opinion that the children would have been better off had they spent those years with their mothers. But then again — mothers are different.

One mother told me that her child came home and mentioned that in her playmate's house the mother had "cards" and could "make food" and not just buy it already prepared from the store. Still another child had never seen an iron or ironing board as her mother used neither.

Maybe I did give twenty years of my life solely to our children. They were years when we worked and played side by side. They learned to plant seeds and pull weeds and not always willingly either. Their Daddy taught them to hammer a nail, drive a tractor and repair machinery; and I taught them to cook, bake and clean plus a love for reading. When they were small, I always took time to read stories to them and ask them questions about the pictures. It was surprising how quickly they learned. But I learned too as often they ask questions that I couldn't answer and we'd hunt it up in the encyclopedia, which our 10 year old daughter had won for a "question" in the Tell Me Why article in our local newspaper.

Another snatch of overheard conversation got me to thinking too. In this case a mother was telling a friend about a planned trip to Bermuda. The talk got around to the grade in which a daughter was this year and what she planned to do. Oh, she is a Junior said one and the other ask about colleges. "We haven't bothered to think of that as yet," said the other. "You see, we haven't kept in touch with school officials and didn't realize now is the time to start looking." But they talked of taking time to ride motorcycles and of what things they planned to see in Bermuda. Where should one's priorities lie in regard to their children?

Bergland reports on foreign owned U.S. land

ABILENE, Tex. - Foreign investors hold an interest in about four million acres of U.S. agricultural land, according to a preliminary data examined by the U.S. Department of Agriculture and announced here recently by Secretary of Agriculture Bob Bergland.

The review indicates foreign owners hold less than one-half of 1 percent of all private U.S. agricultural land.

The estimate is based on a preliminary review of 4,500 reports filed as of Sept. 1 by foreign investors under the Agricultural Foreign Investment Disclosure Act of 1978.

Bergland said distribution patterns indicate that foreign ownership is heavily concentrated in the South and West, although foreign agricultural land holdings were reported in all 50 states. Georgia, South Carolina, and Tennessee account for 27 percent of all foreign-owned acreage, he said.

Similar concentration patterns are apparent in the countries-of-origin of foreign owners, Bergland said. A relatively few countries account for the bulk of foreign-held U.S. agricultural land. From the data examined so far, investors from the United Kingdom, Luxembourg, West Germany and Canada hold 72 percent of all foreign-owned land reported.

Chemistry causes change of leaves

MEDIA—"Jack Frost" doesn't cause leaf color change. An early frost actually suppresses the brilliance of autumn leaf colors by killing or injuring leaves before the pigments reach maximum development. During the growing season green chlorophyll converts sunshine into energy for making food. Chlorophyll is chemically unstable and must be continually renewed in the leaves. Along with the green, there are two yellow pigments called carotene and xanthophyll in the leaves. These are masked by the outer layer of green chlorophyll. "Yellow pigments remain until the leaf turns brown.

The red pigments called anthocyanins usually appear later in the growing season and are produced from a combination of sugars, fall sunlight and cool nights. High sugar concentrates in leaf cells, temperatures below 45 degrees yet above freezing and diminished respiration favor anthocyanin formation.

All autumn hues result from blends of these three primary pigments, the rich yellow of carotene, the paler yellows of xanthophyll and the reds and purple reds of anthocyanin.

These conditions start the brilliant blanket of colors that begins in the mountains and extends to the lower elevations. Look for the most vivid colors following a warm dry summer and early autumn rains that prevent early leaf fall, suggests McKeehen. Prolonged periods of wet weather in late fall produce drab coloration. Droughty periods favor anthocyanin formation due primarily to the indirect effects of soil water deficiency upon tree and shrub metabolism. Drought conditions also favor red pigment formation.

Keystones are witnessing autumn's largest outdoor art show as fall colors set the forests ablaze. Black gum trees are about the first of the hardwoods to exhibit their brilliant reds, followed by the many-hued pruples, reds, yellows and oranges of maples and ash. Orange-leaved sassafrass, yellow-leaved hickories, red-leaved sumac, and yellow-leaved tulip poplar blend in with the varied shades of browns, greens, yellows, and red to vividly color the forestlands of our state.

4-H royal couple's reign drawing to an end

YORK — When York County's new 4-H king and queen are chosen on October 14 as the highlight of the annual achievement day, it will be a moment of mixed emotions for Lisa Dobrosky and Jon Miller.

Lisa and Jon are the reigning 4-H royal couple and have traveled across the county for the past year promoting 4-H involvement. The king and queen serve as spokesman for the youth program and are selected on their personal activities as well as their speaking abilities. They've represented York County's 4-H'ers in the York Halloween parade, on WGAL-TV, the 4-H Expo fashion show and a variety of meetings.

"The 4-H is the center of everything — it's our life," says 16-year-old Lisa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Dobrosky, Glen Rock R2. Her father has been a county extension agent for many years, so Lisa just naturally grew up attending 4-H club meetings, even before she was old enough to become a member.

"I took my first project when I was seven," she remembers, "But, that was still too young for membership, and I couldn't finish it for credit."

Eight years ago, though, she was old enough to take her first official projects, beginning with sheep, cooking and sewing. After several years in the Glen Rock community and the county's lamb club, Lisa is still raising and exhibiting sheep. Most of her other projects are in the area of crafts, health and livestock judging. A member of county council, Lisa took part in the 4-H exchange this summer and hosted a 4-H visitor from Oklahoma. Next year, Lisa and other York county members will visit their new Oklahoma friends in return.

Not only knowledgeable of sheep on the hoof, Lisa also knows their good points when they've been dressed out and are ready for the meat retail counter. In fact, she's scored impressively in the meats judging competition and earned first place awards at both state and national competition last year. With the county's top team, she traveled to the American Royal Livestock Show in Kansas City in November, where her carcass evaluation knowledge beat out all competitors from several ranching states. Her team took top group honors

After winning the state award, Lisa is now ineligible for further meats judging activities, and has switched to placing sheep, hogs and beef in the ring with the livestock judging team. In this year's junior competition, she placed fourth in the state and plans to compete for the senior team in 1980.

Lambs, both the breeding and market animals, are still probably Lisa's favorite projects, although she admits it's hard to part with the market animals at roundup sales. As a promoter of the Southdowns, Lisa is currently a director of the breed's junior association and is the alternate Southdown Queen. In recognition of her outstanding achievements in the county's 4-H program, she was chosen the Outstanding Girl for 1978.

York County's 4-H king and queen, Jon Miller and Lisa Dobrosky, have made many appearances promoting 4-H and showing slides of the program's varied activities.

Although still uncertain about what she'll study when she heads for college after graduation from Susquehannock High School, Lisa does feel certain that her 4-H background will exert considerable influence on her decision.

Jon, also 16, began 4-H eight years ago, following in the membership tradition set by his family and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Miller, Seven Valleys R1.

His initial projects included a junior dairy calf, tractor club and outdoor cooking. Today, Jon has credits in a range of interests, from sheep and veterinary science to gardening and bicycle. He earned the York Fair's 4-H tractor driving championship for the past two years and is now eligible to compete on the state level contest Other activities include county council, dairy club, Jefferson community club and the exchange program.

During interviews at the recent York Fair, Jon was selected the Fair Board's outstanding 4-H'er, an award that carries with it a cash grant to be used toward a project-related trip. Jon will put his winnings toward travel to the American Royal Livestock Show at Kansas City, where he'll be competing with the county's meats judging team in national scoring. That team won state honors earlier this year and will aim for a repeat of last year's team's top spot in the national contest. Jon placed second in individual scoring at the state level.

A senior student and member of the varsity wrestling team at the York Area Vo-Tech school, Jon has applied for admission next year to the main campus of Pennsylvania State University. He plans to major in an agriculture field, perhaps agengineering or animal production.

Both Lisa and Jon represented York County this week in youth activities at the Eastern National Livestock at the Maryland state fairgrounds in Timonium. Jon competed in both dairy and livestock activities and Lisa competed in livestock categories.

★ *WHAT IS AN "ENERGY–PAK" OXYGEN CONTROLLED FEED STORAGE SYSTEM?

The "Energy-Pak" "Oxygen Controlled" Storage System includes a solid, steel reinforced concrete wall with a tough epoxy coating on the inside wall and a cone shaped concrete roof All access openings to the Silage Storage area are round and fitted with air-tight gaskets These round openings are easily clamped tight These features help to control and limit the amount of oxygen that comes in contact with the feed

In operating an "Energy-Pak", prime importance is placed on closing the silo after each filling and feeding operation Proper use of this system significantly reduces the oxygen content in the silo and results in a more ideal condition for maintaining the quality of the feed put into it

4-H leaders to attend forum

NEWARK, Del. – Eight Delawareans will attend the Northeast Volunteer Leaders' Forum in Bushkill, Pa. from October 11 to 14, 1979.

The Forum, sponsored by J. C. Penney Co., Inc., will bring together 4-H leaders from each Northeastern state to discuss the role of teenagers in the 4-H program.

Attending from Delaware are New Castle county 4-H agent James R. Moore and seven volunteer 4-H leaders: Patricia Correll, of Bridgeville; Kay Powell, Camden-Wyoming; Barbara Taylor, Seaford; Jean Wilson, Greenwood; Betty Davis, Milford; Pauline Magargal, Landenberg, Pa.; and Rodney Reynolds, Smyrna.

According to Moore and Wilson, who serve on the overall planning committee for the Forum, all participants have been asked to survey the teenagers in their local areas to find out what kinds of activities they're interested in. The leaders will bring this information to the Forum.

Workshops at the four-day event will deal with methods of working with teens on a one-to-one basis, working with teens in groups, and using teens as 4-H project leaders.

At the conclusion of the Forum, each leader will prepare a plan of action for working with the teenagers of his or her home state.

Youth observe National 4-H Week

NEWARK, Del. — Over 4,000 Delawareans will join with more than five million other young people from around the nation in celebrating National 4-H Week, October 7-13, 1979. Activities will center on the theme, "4-H — Expanding Horizons."

President Jimmy Carter called the theme "an especially appropriate one that focuses on the fine way in which 4-H programs are expanding the horizons for millions of youth through achievement and self-fulfillment.

"4-H is a program that is reaching out to all young Americans," he said, "rural and urban, from every cultural, economic, and social background. Through learn-by-doing educational projects and activities, 4-H'ers are contributing to energy conservation, environmental improvement, community service, food production, and many other areas vital to all of us, and participating in valuable programs that aid in youth employment and career decisions, health, nutrition, and strong family relationships."

National 4-H Week is set aside annually by the Cooperative Extension Service to focus attention on the values of 4-H as an informal education program for boys and girls nine to 19 years old.

The program's learn-by-doing philosophy encourages young people to acquire useful skills and develop citizenship and leadership abilities.

Most 4-H members are enrolled in locally organized clubs on a year-round basis. Others take part in 4-H through special education programs, instructional television, international programs, short-term activities, and camping.

Delaware currently has over 100 clubs, with a total membership of over 2000. Another 2100 young people are involved with 4-H sponsored special interest groups. Like their counterparts around the nation, Delaware's 4-H'ers plan to celebrate 4-H Week with a number of special events.

Schools and businesses all over Delaware will be sporting special window displays all during 4-H Week. The windows, the work of local 4-H chapters, will portray the theme "Expanding Horizons."

In addition, 4-H'ers from all over the state will gather in Newark on October 6 for a picnic and tour of the University of Delaware campus, highlighted by a home football game.

The University of Delaware has strong ties to the 4-H organization. 4-H operates through a partnership of land grant universities, government, volunteer leaders, and the private sector. It is administered through the universities in cooperation with the U.S. Department of Agriculture, with the Cooperative Extension Service responsible for program leadership.

County and area leadership is provided by about 10,000 extension agents specializing in agriculture, home economics, and 4-H.

At the local level, each of nearly 580,000 volunteer leaders devotes an average of 20 eight-hour days annually to 4-H. Parents also play an important role in local 4-H.

Thousands of businesses, organizations, and individuals lend their support to the program at all levels. Nationally, private-sector support for 4-H is coordinated by National 4-H Council, a nonprofit educational organization with offices in Chicago and Washington, D.C.

Only about 30 percent of the youngsters who belong to Delaware 4-H clubs today live on farms. The rest come from small towns, suburbs and city areas. What's more, no matter where they live, their interests cover a broad range of subjects besides farming.

Sometimes an entire club undertakes a special activity, such as a community clean-up campaign. Most often, though, members pursue special individual projects ranging from mechanical subjects like cars, small engines, and bicycles, to electricity, conservation, consumer education, sewing, home decoration, photography, entomology, food preparation, child care, health, and leadership.

Volunteer leaders are always needed for the 4-H program. Individuals who are interested in becoming leaders, or civic organizations which may be able to provide leadership and a meeting place are invited to contact their county 4-H agent.

A WOOD STOVE YOU CAN BUILD WHICH WILL OUT PERFORM ANY OF 500 STOVES ON THE MARKET FOR LESS MONEY THAN A CORD OF WOOD!

JUST A FEW OF THE MANY TESTIMONIES

OIL MAN HASN'T STOPPED FOR 1½ YEARS

"I am presently heating my 26' x 44' ranch-type house with a double heater. I am also heating my baseboard hot water and domestic hot water. The oil man hasn't stopped for a year and a half. The heater is in the basemet and thoroughly heats my basement and the upstairs to 75 degrees on a zero degree day."

Jerry Young
Williamsport, PA

FOUND: A BETTER WAY TO HEAT YOUR HOME!!

For 3 years we owned a Wonderwood Circulating Stove. In only 3 years' time, this $250 stove was giving only a maximum of 5 hours of heat (which meant getting up in the middle of the night to feed it, and always coming home to a cold house) and it was literally falling apart at the seams.

After seeing how well John & Liz Grove's worked in their home, I was convinced that this was a better way to heat my house. On the sly, I sold our Wonderwood and installed a long barrel in the basement. The longer than average barrel allows me to use 4' lengths of pallet wood without cutting them in half. I know it has to be the ugliest stove on the market, but the feeling I get never having to hear that oil furnace come on is fantastic!

BETTER THAN ADVERTISED...

Received lower barrel stove kit on January 17, 1979 and was very pleased with your prompt service. We are also very well pleased with the results of this heater's operation. It was placed in service on Jan. 20, 1979, and it heated two floors (2,200 sq. ft.) to about 75 degrees with an outside temp. of 20 degrees.

I am now ordering the top kit (DD), Lift N Saw (TL), and the Monster Maul.

Apple Beverages: a Fall specialty

NEWARK, Del.—One of the benefits of fall, besides cooler weather, is the anticipation of those fresh ripe apples we've watched maturing all summer long. A special way to enjoy those apples is to drink them, says Delaware extension home economist Sue Schaefer. A cool, tall glass of fresh sweet cider really captures the taste of the season.

Interest in apple juice and cider beverages has been increasing during the past few years. Most consumers prefer wholesome, naturally healthful fruit juices to alcoholic and snythetic beverages. There are about 87 calories per six-ounce glass of apple cider or apple juice.

A number of beverages are made from apples. Fresh sweet country cider is the fresh pressed, unfermented and unpasteurized juice of apples. A preservative is sometimes added to retard fermentation and provide longer shelf life. Fresh sweet cider is perishable and should be kept refrigerated. Unrefrigerated, it has a shelf life of only a few days. When refrigerated it will remain sweet for one to two weeks.

Cider can also be frozen. Frozen cider retains its quality and fresh flavor for at least a year. Freeze the juice as soon after settling as possible. Fill the containers to only 90 percent of capacity to allow for expansion during freezing.

Apple juice is the same product as sweet cider but is often clarified. Most of the suspended apple solids, which give sweet cider its cloudy, opaque appearance, have been removed, and the juice is pasteurized to destory fermentation and spoilage microorganisms. It is hermetically sealed or vacuum packed for preservation. Unopened, apple juice needs no refrigeration and will keep well for a year or longer. Once opened, it should be refrigerated. Unrefrigerated, it won't ferment, but it will lose flavor and spoil.

Hard cider is essentially sweet cider or juice in which the sugars have been converted to alcohol (three to seven percent) by fermentation. It is a clear liquid with all the apple solids removed by "settling," and "racking."

Apple wine is, like hard cider, sweet apple cider or juice with the sugars converted to alcohol through natural fermentation. Added yeast and sugar increases the alcohol content to seven to 12 percent.

Apple jack is an Americanized name for Apple Brandy. It's made by distilling hard cider and aging for about five years. The French version, called Calvados, is aged for 10 years. It has substantially higher alcohol content.

It is important to note that a blend of two or more apple varieties makes a better cider than any single variety. Balance sweet apple varieties, such as Red Delicious and Golden Delicious, with some that are mildly tart and higher in acid content, such as McIntosh, Jonathan, Stayman and Winesap.

Crab apples are hard to find, but may be used in the blend of varieties for apple cider. They are esteemed for making hard cider. They are quite tart, however, and should be limited to a ratio of one bushel to 20 of conventional apples.

Use good, sound, mature apples for cider, but look for the more economical utility grades and smaller sizes. Fancy fruit with lots of color adds nothing extra to good cider.

Three and one-half gallons of cider is obtained from a bushel of apples.

Heating sweet cider to 170-200 degrees F kills the microorganisms which cause the fermentation of cider, as well as those which may hasten spoilage. Heating will modify the flavor, however. Directions for making sweet cider at home are available in a publication titled: "Making and Preserving Apple Cider," Bulletin #2125, Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402. Price is 35 cents.

SOME WAYS TO USE APPLE CIDER...

Mulled Cider

1 quart apple cider or apple juice
1 teaspoon whole allspice
1 teaspoon whole cloves
2 sticks cinnamon
6 thin lemon or orange slices, if desired

Combine ingredients, except lemon or orange slices, in a saucepan. Simmer covered for 20 minutes. Remove spices. Serve hot with fruit slices, if desired.

Yield - 6 servings.

Apple-Cranberry Punch

1 quart apple cider
1 cup sweetened cranberry juice
1 teaspoon lemon juice
2 cups ginger ale

Combine cider and fruit juices; chill in refrigerator. Add chilled ginger ale just before serving.

Yield: 10 servings

Highlights of Kathy Edwards reign as Md. princess

MOUNT JOY - Miss Kathy Edwards looked back on her year as 1978 Maryland Dairy Princess and shared some highlights.

Kathy's goal was to do at least one Princess related activity each week. Some weeks had none, some had more. It was a real challenge to work around a full schedule at Salisbury State College, regular work as R.N. at Peninsula General Medical Center and volunteer work at Deers Head State Hospital, Oh, yes, there was that emergency appendectomy she worked around, too. With all this activity she always expressed great enthusiasm for Princess appearances and often asked if there wasn't more she could do for her title.

Kathy naturally attended numerous functions around the state where she met those she fondly represented, 4-H'ers, FFA'ers, dairy farmers and co-operatives personnal. She used these opportunities to learn more about the changing aspects of the dairy industry. This helped her be a better informed representative. Plus "it is always a joy to meet my favorite hard working people" she adds.

The main objective for Kathy throughout the year was to aid the dairy industry, especially the farmer, by informing the public about dairy nutrition. Some of her variety of means included:

-Talked before civic organizations.

-Rode a poster decked sports car in parades.

-Organized a nutrition seminar for school cafeteria workers stressing the importance of dairy foods in the daily diet. Their questions were numerous and enthusiastic.

-Participated in a Hospital Nutrition Program with the Maryland Dairy Council of Upper Chesapeake Bay, Inc. This was an ideal chance to inform doctors, fellow nurses, and health care personnel about the wonders of milk products.

-Shopping center appearances, guided excited children through miniature golf dairy game.

-Gave informative and lively talks before cow milking contests.

-Numerous appearances with over 1,000 school children using stories, posters, films, inflatable cow, Cindy, a toy milking cow to illustrate "how to milk one", and ending with a magic cow treat for each child.

-Dairy educational spots on two radio stations during June Dairy Month.

-TV appearance with Tob Hunter.

-A presentation of a Cheese Log to the Mayor of Salisbury, who officially proclaimed June as Dairy Month in Salisbury complete with picture for the paper.

Kathy provided good public relations for the dairy industry as well as educational services.

Another fond highlight was a trip to New York State where she met other state dairy princesses as she represented Maryland.

Kathy concluded that as a proud farmer's daughter, past 4-H'er and true lover of milk products, "it was easy and fun to promote something that offers so much to so many - it's a natural Milk is the One!"

Kathy Edwards crowned the 1979 Maryland Dairy Princess, Karen Markline in August.

Miss Edwards is now catching her breath and resuming studies at College and work at the hospital.

National 4-H week observed

The week of October 7-13 is being observed as National 4-H Week. Since 1927, this week has been a time for 4-H'ers, their leaders, and friends to take stock of the past year's accomplishments and achievements.

In Penna., the 4-H membership is about 90,000 strong. The groups range in age from 8 years to 19 years old. Approximately three-quarters of the state enrollment comes from large cities, middle-sized towns, and small villages. The rest of the membership is composed to farm youths.

When 4-H was first started, it consisted of livestock, crops, cooking, and sewing clubs. These activities were designed to improve farm and family living, through practical, out-of classroom education. That was 61 years ago.

Today, 4-H activities include areas like arts and crafts, automotive safety, small .engine care, home improvement, babysitting, photography, clothing, geology, electricity, conservation, veterinary science, nutrition education, and indoor gardening.

Nevertheless, the "citified" projects have not pushed out the old ones. In fact, the traditional projects are gaining new popularity. 4-H members are still sewing, cooking and raising prize livestock, along with growing ribbon-winning crops. Today, however, the members are using more sophisticated technology.

Dr. Thomas B. King, associate dean for extension at Penn State, has commented, "The educational projects and learn-by-doing activities of 4-H clubs are assisting young people in assuming roles of leadership and citizenship which are of value now and in the future." He pointed out that the 4-H program is conducted by Penn State's agriculture staff members. These people are located in each of the 67 counties and at the university.

National 4-H week is helping to point out the benefits to youth that being a club member brings. The young people learn leadership, citizenship, and public speaking. They gain poise and confidence in themselves, and they have fun through games, music, camping, sports and talent shows.

These talented young people actively pledge their heads, hearts, hands, and health to better their clubs, communities, country and the world.

THE TIME IS NOW!

TRADE UP TO THE NEW VAN DALE MAGNUM SILO UNLOADER...

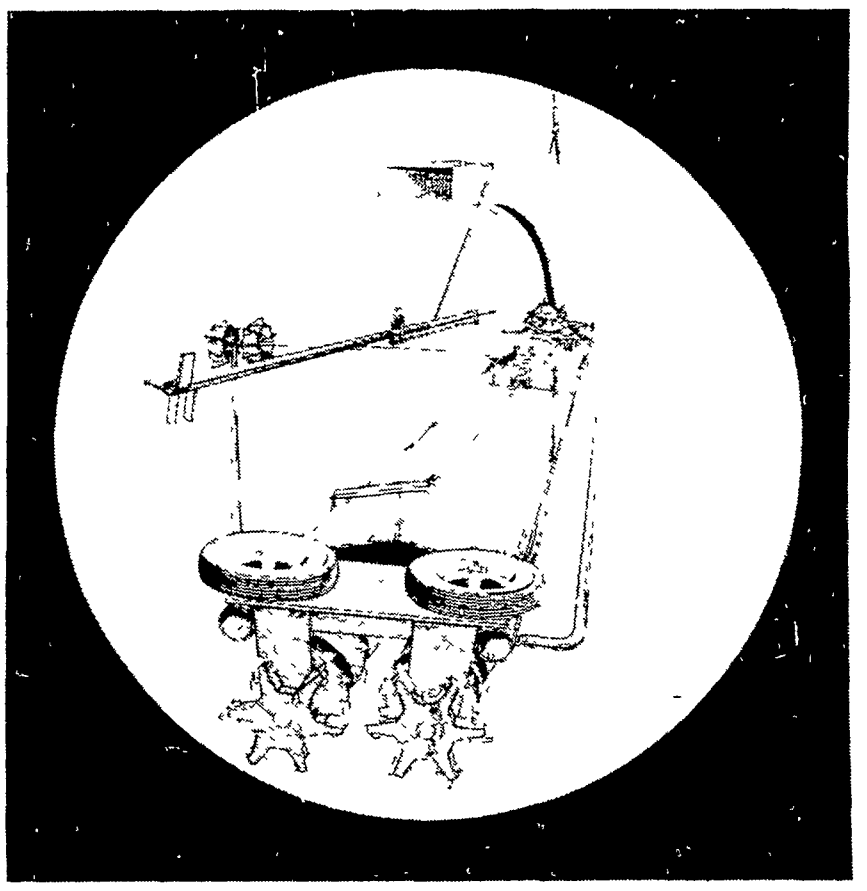
VAN DALE®

PUT A SMILE IN YOUR DAYS WORK!

THE NEW MAGNUM SILO UNLOADER!

Designed and Engineered by The Pioneer In The Silo Unloader Industry.

VAN DALE®



The new MAGNUM 27 unloading action starts with more aggressive wall cleaners with replaceable knives. Coupled with the dual, 7 and 8 inch differential speed augers this combination gives better wall pressure for cleaner walls and maximum silage delivery to the impeller. The impeller is a large 27" diameter driven by an extra-heavy "C" section belt for more traction and longer belt life There's still more — the MAGNUM 27 features quick release pins so you can fold the machine, maintaining perfect balance, and pull it to the top of the silo in minutes This makes it easy to fill 'n feed There's also a new compound radius chute and a new roller torque arm which is attached to a larger, heavier support triangle. Add it all up and you have a performance champ that will give years of service.

TAKE TIME AND SEE THE NEW MAGNUM AT K&S INC.

Ladies Have You Heard?

By Susan Doyles

Lancaster Home Economist

DON'T LOSE YOUR WARRANTY

Warranties have come out of the dark ages in recent years. You no longer need a high powered telescope to read the fine print, because fine print is no longer allowed by law.

You don't need a law degree to interpret warranties either. Warranties have to specify whether they're full or limited; they must clearly describe what is and what isn't covered. They must state the duration of the warranty and what you, the consumer, must do if you have a warranty claim.

In fact, one of the biggest problems with warranties today is that consumers don't read them. They usually don't even think about them until the freezer breaks down or the range doesn't heat up or the sewing machine sews only what it chooses.

Then comes a hectic and often unsuccessful hunt for the warranty certificate. To complicate matters still further, many manufacturers require proof of date of purchase, such as a sales slip.

For peace of mind, establish a system whereby warranty certificates are filed right along with the appropriate sales slip. A manila envelope, a standard file folder, a section of a drawer or even an old shoe box will suffice.

DON'T VOID THE WARRANTY

Sometimes a product like a refrigerator, lawn mower, or food processor breaks down and the consumer blames the manufacturer when the culprit is really consumer misuse.

This misuse can be inadvertent. For example, a few years ago many families had clothes dryers with clogged filters and other problems. Manufacturers refused to repair the appliances under the warranty.

The reason? The problems were caused by use of an aerosol spray fabric softener, no longer on the market, rather than from any defect in the material or workmanship of the dryer.

It's unfair to expect manufacturers to repair products that fail due to our misuse or our failure to read the use and care materials the manufacturer provides with the product.

If we want manufacturers to honor their warranties, we should do our part by using the products as directed.

Market news communications modernized

NEW YORK, N.Y. - Deputy Secretary of Agriculture Jim Williams told top state departments of agriculture leaders meeting here that his department will modernize its entire market news communications network by late spring.

Speaking at the first annual meeting of the National Association of State Departments of Agriculture, Williams said the network will be converted to a 1,200 word-per-minute transmission system and video display terminals introduced in 121 more cities.

"The conversion and modernization will speed delivery of information on prices, supplies, demand and sales of all major farm products as it is gathered around the nation," he said.

"Introduction of VDT equipment," he said, "will simplify editing and transmission techniques used by federal-state reporters, making this information available more quickly to commercial news media and other users."

Barbara Lindemann Schlei, head of the department's Agricultural Marketing Service, which administers the market news program, said the new system replaces a 75-100 word-per-minute teletype network operated by the department since 1939. Offices in 22 eastern and midwestern cities were converted to high-speed transmission on a trial basis two years ago.

Commercial news media and others have been permitted to link up with the old market news teletype circuits since 1963. With the installation of automated switching equipment in Washington, D.C. in 1975, commercial news wire service and others have been allowed direct connection between this equipment and other data processing computer channels. This gave them a direct link-up with the entire present nine-circuit system.

Schlei said potential users may continue to make direct connections with the new system by purchasing or leasing compatible equipment from local telephone companies and other telecommunications equipment suppliers. USDA does not handle such arrangements nor does it charge for the market news service.

Through the rapid transmission of all market information made possible by the new system, users on individual circuits serving each area will now have access to all needed information moving throughout the network.

Conversion of the entire network should be completed in late May. The first converted segment, serving California, Arizona, New Mexico, and parts of Texas and Kansas, will start operation in late 1979.

Penn State offers winemaking book

UNIVERSITY PARK - An expanded and revised version of the book entitled, "Winemaking as a Hobby," published by the College of Agriculture at The Pennsylvania State University, is now available.

The publication gives detailed information on the various procedures the wine hobbyist should follow in obtaining an excellent-quality wine. Included are numerous illustrations and photographs.

"High-quality wines can be made by the amateur," reports author Donald L. Ace, Penn State Extension specialist. "In fact, many home-produced wines often are superior to commercial products."

The revised publication is available for $2.50 plus 6 per cent Pennsylvania sales tax. Make check or money order payable to The Pennsylvania State University, and send with your name and address to WINEMAKING, Box 6000, University Park, PA 16802. Allow two weeks for delivery.

Topics covered include wine types, equipment and chemicals, winemaking process, bottling, storing and aging, chemical testing, rules for serving, and grape species and varieties.

A special section is devoted to the amateur who is interested in the process of winemaking by recipe.

Tips for purchase of quality eggs

UNIVERSITY PARK - The average housewife buys 1,000 eggs a year or more. How does she tell a high quality egg in the carton while in the store.

First a person should look for the grade A USDA stamp of quality. This is a start but only the first step. Next open the carton and look at the shell. Perfect shelled eggs usually have high interior quality. Egg shells should be smooth, glossy, perfectly shaped without any stain, dirt or damage such as holes or cracks. Reject any eggs that are cracked, rough, ridged, wrinkled, or misshaped. A perfect shell is usually a high quality egg throughout. High quality eggs taste better.

Second, buy the smaller eggs for the best quality. Pewee, pullet or small and medium sized eggs usually have higher quality interiors than extra large or jumbo size eggs. The regular large egg is the dividing line, it may have higher quality or lower quality depending on the third item listed here.

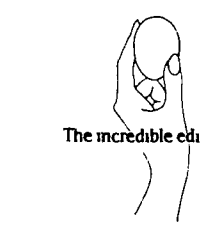
Third, know the brand name and trust the egg producers, packer and retailer.

Three main areas are managed by your supplier. They include:

• The genetic potential of the laying chicken. If the farmer buys a bird with a history or reputation for being able to lay high quality eggs, she will continue to do this all year as she moves from laying small eggs to medium then laying larger eggs as the year progresses.

• Secondly, there are environmental requirements for a bird to lay high quality eggs. She must be kept in an envrionmentally controlled house held between 56 and 80 degrees all year long where eggs are gathered three times a day. Eggs should then be cooled to 55 degrees F. and kept at that temperature along with 75 per cent relative humidity until eaten.

• Finally, nutrition is a very important item. Unless a bird is given her minimum daily requirements of all nutrients she will lay no egg at all. Between 20 and 40 different nutrients such as vitamins, minerals, energy, protein, fiber, as well as unidentified factors, are balanced in a hen's laying ration to allow her to lay a high quality egg nearly every day.



The incredible edible egg

Holding onto assets

Estate forum tells how

Dying is bad enough, certainly for the individual who passes on to his just rewards, and certainly for the family he or she leaves behind. But what's worse than simply dying, is dying without some sort of estate plan.

People who die without an estate plan spelled out in a current will, can leave their heirs with a mass of confusion, and very little else, according to a trio of speakers at a farm estate planning forum last week at the Lancater Farm and Home Center.

The speakers were J. Elvin Kraybill, a partner in the Lancaster law firm of Gibbel and Kraybill, Walter A. Brunke, estate planning officer with the Fulton Bank in Lancaster, and Steven D. Brooks, a lawyer and former IRS agent now with the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. in Washington, D.C.

Farm families are especially vulnerable to the perils of poor estate planning, according to Brooks. "Inflation is driving up the value of your estate," he told the farmers in the audience. "A good estate plan can help prevent the erosion of those assets, which you've worked a lifetime to earn, as they pass on to your heirs."

Kraybill pointed out that the death of a farm owner puts his heirs into a position where they will need a lot of cash in a short time to take care of state and federal estate taxes.

The cash needs can be lowered considerably, he said, by giving away part of the estate while the owner is still alive. Marital gifts between husband and wife can ease the financial burden on the surviving marriage partner by removing part of the estate from the taxable assets.

With a marital deduction, one living spouse can pass to his partner half their shared assets, up to $250,000 in value. Farm owners can also give up to $3,000 per heir per year without paying income or estate taxes, according to Kraybill.

"The first source of funds for the settlement of an estate," he said, "should be to minimize taxes as much as possible."

Many farm husbands and wives own their assets jointly, Kraybill said. This can be a useful tool, but only in estates valued at $200,000 or less.Above that amount, he said, the husband and wife should think about separate ownership arrangements.

The people to talk to in planning your estate are your bank's trust officer, your insurance advisor, your accountant and your attorney, Walter Brunke told the group.

He described the role of a bank trust officer as that of an organizer who's called on to prepare a blueprint for estates. "We find out first what a husband and wife own together and separately, then we figure out a tax projection should one of them die," he said.

If there is no planning or, worse yet, no will, state and federal inheritance taxes can make a shambles of an estate. In a typical example, Brunke described how a $750,000 estate would be distributed without a will. There would be an immediate need for some $100,000 in cash to pay inheritance taxes and current debts.

The surviving spouse who received the remaining assets would have $650,000 after the settlement. If that individual died soon after the first spouse died, the federal and estate taxes would eat up close to $175,000 of the remaining assets, with another $25,000 or so going to pay debts, leaving the children of these two people with $450,000.

Some $300,000 worth of their assets would have been swallowed up according to the dictates of estate tax laws.

While no estate plan can completely avoid estate taxes, Brunke pointed out, a good plan can do a lot to blunt their impact.

Produce dealer's PACA licenses suspended

NEWARK, Del. - Trim-Cut Distributors Co., Inc., and Bronstein and Rovner, Inc., Buffalo, N.Y., had their Perishable Agricultural Commodities Act (PACA) license suspended for failing to pay a reparation award, issued by the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA). The award was issued to Pennsylvania sellers for mixed produce in the amount of $10,841, shipped from April through June of 1978.

The firms failed to answer the charges and USDA ordered payment of the amount claimed due.

These firms may not conduct business under PACA until the amount is paid. The directors may not be employed by any PACA licensee until USDA approves.

PACA, administered by the department's Agricultural Marketing Service, establishes a code of good business conduct for the produce industry. Under its regulations, all interstate traders in fresh and frozen fruits and vegetables must be licensed by USDA, which is authorized to suspend or revoke a trader's license for violating the Act.

Sheep producers to meet in Denver

DENVER, Colo. - The 26th annual meeting of the American Sheep Producers Council (ASPC), will be held Oct. 17-18 in Denver. One of the principal speakers for this year's meeting is Brian Harron, executive vice president of the National Restaurant Association.

Harron will speak on the growth of the dine-out trade and the impact of the fast food industry on the restaurant trade. ASPC has recently announced the re-establishment of a strong food service program to put more domestic lamb on the nation's menus.

Other speakers included in the Oct. 17 presentation are:

Bruce Chrystall, Board Member of the New Zealand Meat Board and sheep farmer. Chrystall will be speaking on the world wool market and New Zealand's place in it.

Zoe Coulson, Director, Good Housekeeping Institute, will speak on the many new social aspects of life and what Good Housekeeping predicts will be of interest to consumers in the 80's.

David H. Stroud, president, National Live Stock & Meat Board, will speak on the new emphasis on nutrition and nutrition studies.

In the evening, delegates and directors will tour ASPC's headquarters offices and enjoy a buffet reception.

The delegates and directors will conduct their business meeting on Oct. 18.

ASPC is the national promotion organization for the American sheep industry. Headquartered in Denver, ASPC encourages increased consumption and use of domestically produced lamb and wool through advertising, merchandising, education and public relations programs. The ASPC represents about 120,000 sheepmen nationwide.

Oxford chapter picnic

OXFORD—On September 27 the Oxford Chapter of the Future Farmers held their annual fall picnic in Nottingham Park. Everyone brought a covered dish and the food was shared and enjoyed by all.

The evenings activities included a rope pulling contest between the classes. The freshman pulled the seniors, and also won in the pull-off competitions with the sophomore and junior classes. A softball game was organized.

Approximately 75 FFA members and guests attended the picnic, including parents, Mr. Scott Gold and Mr. Kenneth Thompson.

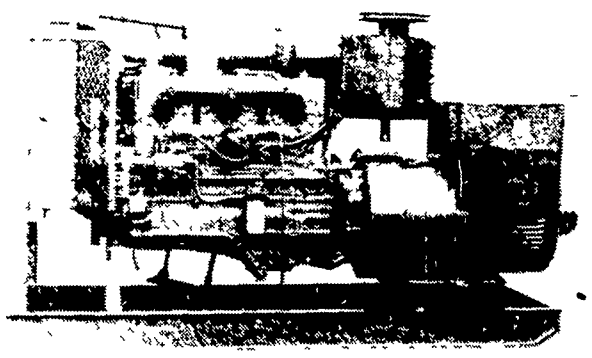
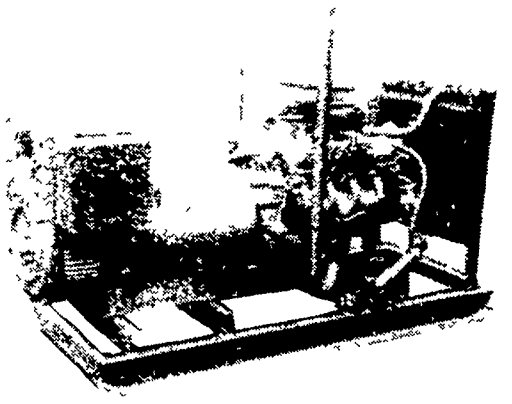
BALANCED DESIGN to Give You Peak Performance for Your Application:

• FARM • INDUSTRIAL • COMMERCIAL • RESIDENTIAL





Balanced design is important in Engine-Generator Set designing. Generators with excessive surge capacity can stall out engines! Without starting the Load!! Generators lacking in surge capacity can collapse in voltage! Without starting the load!! With balanced design you get peak starting capacity per engine H.P...So, whether you need a 1 H.P. per KW surge to start a stone crusher motor or a tough "soft start" generator to start off a multiple motor poultry house, we can tailor your Engine-Generator set to fit your need. Balanced design adds up to the most motor starting capability per dollar invested.

Bob Evans' representative presents Quarter Horse weanling colt to 4-H member Laura Madara, Selbyville.

Colts presented to Delaware 4-H'ers

DOVER, Del. — Two Delaware 4-H members were recently awarded Quarter Horse weanling colts, gifts from Ohio farmer and sausage-maker Bob Evans. They were awarded on September 23, at the State 4-H Horse Show near Dover.

Roy C. Jarman, 12, of Camden-Wyoming, and Laura Madara, 14, of Selbyville, received the horses in recognition of their outstanding work and leadership within 4-H, at school, and in other activities. The program was open to 4-H horse project participants throughout Delaware.

Laura has participated in the 4-H horse project for two years. She has been taking riding lessons, participating in shows, and working as a groom for a friend who owns a horse. Although she has had a pony, this is her first horse of her own.

Roy, whose father raises race horses, may be the first Delaware 4-H member whose horse project involves Standardbred race horses. A 4-H member for four years, he's been involved in the horse project for three years, jogging and training the young animals.

Both winners plan to show their horses at local fairs and shows and use them in further 4-H projects.

Bob Evans, a trustee of the Ohio 4-H Foundation, has a keen interest in raising Quarter Horses. He has served as director of both the

WE MAKE WORMING PAY!

And Beacon does it two ways!

Beacon is finally ending all the controversy about worming. It pays, and we can prove it!

One way is with new BEACON PRE-FRESH, our worming conditioning feed with TBZ* A one-time, 5-pound feeding treatment just before cows freshen effectively controls all major species of worms with no setbacks or side-effects

Another way is with new BEACON PARA-CIDE, our feed supplement designed for use as a top-dress. It allows you to treat your entire herd at the same time, which means worm reinfection is less likely Its effective ingredient is coumaphos, a highly successful worming formula And milk does not have to be withdrawn from the market during or following treatment

Both PRE-FRESH and PARA-CIDE are highly palatable because they use Beacon's selection of special feed ingredients What's more, they will increase your milk production and profits

See your Beacon dealer now He'll give you the latest news on how we make worming pay

U.S.D.A. recommends beef research program

NEW YORK, N.Y. - U.S. Department of Agriculture officials recently recommended establishing a nationally-coordinated research and information program for beef.

The department's recommended decision is based on evidence from public hearing sessions on a proposed beef research and information order earlier this year in Dallas, Texas, Atlanta, Ga., Pittsburgh, Pa., Reno, Nev., and Des Moines, Iowa. The department also considered comments received on hearing testimony.

Written comments and exceptions will be accepted on the recommended decision until Nov. 5. Five copies of all comments should be sent to the Hearing Clerk, Rm. 1077-S, USDA, Washington, D.C., 20250, where anyone may review them.

Under the recommended order, a beef board composed of producers would collect assessments on sales of cattle. Funds would be used for research, producer and consumer information, and promotion to improve, maintain and develop markets for cattle, beef and beef products. The program would be monitored by the department's Agricultural Marketing Service.

During the first two years of operation, the board could collect assessments of up to one per cent of the value of cattle sold. After that, the assessment rate could change, but it could not exceed five-tenths of one per cent of the value of cattle sold. Producers not wishing to fund the program could receive refunds from the board.

After all comments on the recommended decision are evaluated, the department will issue a final decision. If that decision is favorable, producers will vote on the proposed order in a national referendum.

The recommended decision was published in the Sept. 21 Federal Register. Copies are available from the Agricultural Marketing Service, Rm. 2610-S, USDA, Washington, D.C., 20250, or phone (202) 447-2068.

Klinedinst selected for FFA band

Christine Klinedinst

WRIGHTSVILLE - Christine Klinedinst, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Klinedinst, of Wrightsville R2, is one of 90 members of the Future Farmers of America (FFA) frfm across the nation selected to participate in the National FFA Band. Christine was selected from over 500 applicants representing 42 states and will play the Baritone horn. After intensive practice prior to the convention, the Band is to perform during all sessions of the 52nd National Convention, November 7-9, in Kansas City, Missouri. Christine is a member of the Eastern York FFA Chapter where her advisor is Mr. Gerald Kiger. She was a member of the Eastern Concert Band, Stage Band, Marching Band under the direction of Mr. Richard Powell.

Christine is now attending Alfred Agricultural and Technical College, Alfred N.Y. where she is majoring in Animal Husbandry and is a member of the College Concert Band and Jazz Band; Joseph Canale, Director.

The National FFA Band is being sponsored by the Carnation Company of Los Angeles, California. The National FFA Band was first organized in 1947. Since that time, competition for the honor of playing in the band has steadily increased.

Under the direction of Roger Heath, former Director of California Polytechnic State University Bands, the FFA Band has gained a reputation for its polished performances even though bandsmen have only two days of practice together prior to their first performance.

SERVICE CONTRACTS AND WARRANTIES: WHAT'S THE DIFFERENCE?

Is there any difference between a warranty and a service contract? You bet there is!

A warranty is a legally binding promise the manufacturer makes to a consumer to repair or replace a product that turns out to be defective. The warranty comes free with the merchandise.

On the other hand, a service contract or maintenance agreement is basically an insurance policy that the consumer has the option to buy. It's usually purchased for one or two years at a time and covers parts, labor and service for maintenance problems due to normal wear and tear.

Such contracts may also offer periodic preventive maintenance check-ups.

This sounds more clear-cut than it really is. If your refrigerator breaks down after seven months, is that due to normal wear and tear, or due to a defect in the appliance? Since a refrigerator has a life expectancy of 15-17 years, a defect would seem to be the obvious answer, but who decides?

In general, it makes sense to pay a little more for an appliance, TV, camera or other item with a better warranty, than to save a few dollars on the purchase price and then pay for a maintenance agreement.

Study the warranty carefully before you buy. The warranty certificate will spell out the conditions of the warranty, such as whether service, parts, labor and travel are included. It will also state the duration of the warranty — the length of time it will be in effect.

While it is in effect, a good warranty should suffice.

When the warranty period is ended, you may want to consider a service contract. When considering any type of insurance protection, look at the alternative of no protection. What can happen, if you don't have coverage?

If you think the cost of an average service call could cause financial problems you may want the protection of a service contract.

If your budget can stand the strain of an unexpected repair bill, you might want to risk it. You may well come out ahead.

Consumers should be aware that appliances such as ranges, refrigerators, washers and dryers have very good frequency of repair records.

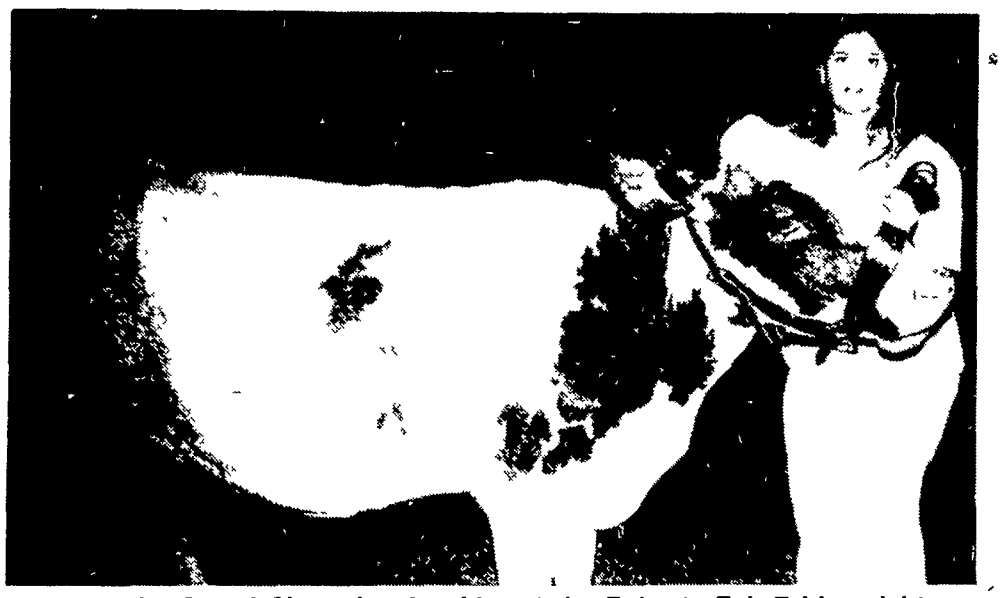
Junior Dairy Show held at Ephrata Fair

Seventeen year old Neal Crouse of Stevens R1 captured the Grand Championship in the Holstein Division of the Ephrata Fair Junior Dairy Show Friday night with his two year old cow "Precious."



Showing the Grand Champion Ayrshire at the Ephrata Fair Friday night was Joyce Gerhart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Gerhart of Reinholds R1.

EPHRATA — Seventeen year old Neal Crouse of Stevens R1 took top honors in the Holstein Division of the Ephrata Fair Junior Dairy Show last Friday night, capturing both the grand champion and senior champion positions with his two year old Holstein "Precious."

Neal is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Galen Crouse and a member of the Lancaster County 4-H Club.

"My brother won grand champion last year," said the happy 4-H'er who has been showing for several years. "He was too old to show this year."

Both reserve grand champion and reserve senior champion in the Holstein division went to Mark Weiler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eli Weiler of Stevens R1. Mark is a member of the Cloister Chapter FFA.

John Zimmerman, the 18 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Zimmerman of Ephrata R1, took both the junior championship and the reserve junior championship with his Holstein calves.

Zimmerman, who also took first place in the senior showmanship contest last Friday night, has been showing as a member of the Cloister Chapter FFA for three years.

His Intermediate Calf "Sheri," sired by Penn State Ivanhoe Star, took the junior championship, and "Shelby," sired by Lara Crest Marvex, took first place in the Junior Calf Class as well as junior champion honors.

A purebred Holstein calf donated by Willis Garman Jr. of Reinholds R1 was given away during the Dairy Show. The contestants in the calf drawing had to be between the ages of nine and 18 years and had to agree to raise the calf and show it at the Dairy Show next year if they won.

This year's winner in the calf drawing was FFA member Jay Martin of Denver R2 who will show the calf at Ephrata next year.

Last year's winner Jessica Moyer entered her calf in the Guernsey division of this year's show, taking first place in the Senior Calves Class.

Grand champion in the Guernsey Division was shown by 18 year old Carol Balmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Balmer of Lititz. She won top honors with her Aged Cow, "Gordlines Princess Beulah," who also took the senior championship.

Besides showing the grand champion Guernsey, Carol placed first in the senior showmanship contest Friday night.

"She usually beats me out," Carol said of her 17 year old sister Connie.

Last year's grand champion winner in the Guernsey division, Connie took Reserve Grand Champion this year with her two year old "Gordlines Country Boy Nadine." Both girls are members of the Lancaster County 4-H Golden Guernsey Club.

In the Brown Swiss division, Kerry Boyd, of Ephrata R5, swept all the honors. He captured the grand champion position with his two year old "Susie."

"This is my last year for showing (with the Cloister FFA)" he said. The Manheim Farm Show will be his last show as a member of the FFA.

Kerry is married to the former Deborah Strauss and is in partnership with his father, Elmer Boyd.

Joyce Gerhart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Gerhart, Reinholds R1, took highest honors in the Ayrshire Division with her three year old cow "Mary." Dale Gerhart won the Reserve Champion position with his two year old Ayrshire.

Joyce, who also won the grand champion last year, is a member of the Cloister FFA.

Following first place winner John Zimmerman in the Senior Showmanship contest were Connie Balmer, Carol Balmer, Kerry Boyd and Kevin Smoker.

Honors in the junior showmanship contest went to Todd Reed, followed by Joanna Gehman, Marvin Weiler, Marvin Zimmerman and Cindy Specht.

Todd Reed also took first place in the junior fitting competition, followed by Eugene Farrari, Marvin Zimmerman, Marvin Weiler and Cindy Specht.

The senior fitting contest was won by Carol Balmer, followed by Marvin Fox, Neal Crouse, Connie Balmer and John Zimmerman.

Clarence Corman, a Holstein classifier from Carlisle, judged the Holstein and Brown Swiss divisions, as well as the showmanship and fitting contests.

Gary Akers of Quarryville judged the Guernsey and Ayrshire breeds.

Lancaster's Alternate Dairy Princess Marcia Groff of Mount Joy R3 was on hand to present ribbons and trophies to the winners.

Junior Dairy Show results were as follows:

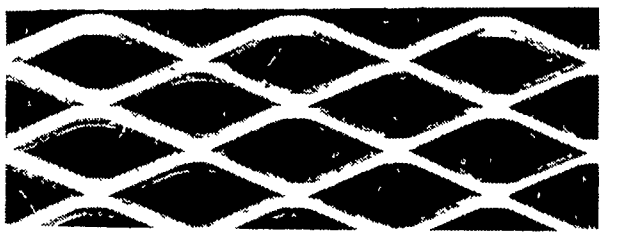
PLASTISOL & SWINEX
Galvanized Expanded Metal Flooring



Plastisol - ¾" #9-H
Sizes 5'x2' - 5'x5'
5'x7' - 4'x8' - 4'x10'

Swinex "A" ¾" - #8 - 4'x8' & 4'x10'
Swinex "B" ¾" - #9 - 4'x8' & 4'x10'
Swinex "C" - #11 - 4'x8'

EXPANDED METAL HAS MANY ADVANTAGES OVER OTHER FLOORING SYSTEMS. FOR EXAMPLE:

- Foot problems are reduced, compared with solid concrete or concrete slat flooring
- Expanded metal "self-cleans" and stays dry better than any other flooring we've evaluated. As a result, bacteria buildup is minimized, which improves conception rates and overall herd health
- Boars and sows have better footing during breeding, compared with breeding on grooved concrete floors

Competitive research grants awarded

WASHINGTON - Secretary of Agriculture Bob Bergland recently awarded six more competitive research grants to support basic research done by U.S. scientists. Today's announcement brings the total number of grants awarded in 1979 to 192.

"Two more grants will be announced later in the month to bring this year's grant program to a close," said Anson Bertrand, the department's director of science and education. "Thus, a total of 194 projects will receive funding this year under a $15 million program set up by Congress to expand basic knowledge in plant sciences and human nutrition."

The grants are being made through the Competitive Research Grants Office of the Science and Education Administration (SEA).

The grant's included:

The University of California, Davis, to study molecular genetic control of zein, a seed protein fraction in corn which is half the protein in the corn kernel. This study may ultimately lead to nutritionally improved corn.

Secondly, The University of Wisconsin, Madison, to find if traits for high quality protein in plants derived from cell and tissue cultures can be transmitted from one generation to the next. The scientists will culture barley and produce seeds from regenerated plants.

Thirdly, to the Brigham Young University, Provo, Utah, to screen barley, wheat and field beans for lines that can convert carbon dioxide into sugar more efficiently. The scientists will use ribulose bisphosphate carboxylase—a key enzyme in photosynthesis—as an indicator.

Fourth, to the Brookhaven National Laboratory of the Department of Energy at Upton, N.Y., to study how energy generated from sunlight in photosynthesis is used to "fix" the nitrogen from the air. The scientists will study microscopic plants that do these energy reactions in the same cell.

Fifth, to the Wayne State University, Detroit, Mich., to do a human volunteer study to test the amount of dietary zinc needed to reach the daily minimum requirement. The scientists will also refine tests to evaluate mild states of zinc deficiency in the general population.

Lastly, to the Georgetown University, Washington, D.C., to study the precise nutritional requirements for zinc in normal human subjects, with respect to age, sex, pre-existing body levels of zinc and general daily dietary intake. The scientists will use radioactive tracer techniques and an already developed and tested computerized modeling program.

Louisville hosts Nat. Shorthorn activities

LOUISVILLE, Ky. - The North American International Livestock Exposition held here will be the site of national activities for the American Shorthorn Association as it conducts its annual meeting and National Shorthorn Shows, November 11-13, according to Ron Hofstrand, president of the organization from Leeds, N.D.

Hofstrand said the National Shorthorn Show has been designated the C.D. "Pete" Swaffar National Shorthorn Show, in honor of long time service given to the organization by Swaffar.

A record number of 300 head of cattle from the top competitive herds of Shorthorns and Polled Shorthorns across this country area expected to compete for top honors November 12 and 13 in this popular show. The National Shorthorn Show will be using a three man composite judging system for the first time with Roger Hunsley, Purdue University; Miles McKee; Kansas State University; and Joe Woods, Frankfort, In., serving as the team officials.

A business meeting is scheduled for November 12 in the West Hall of the Kentucky Exposition Center. Agenda highlights, Hofstrand said, will include the election of national officers and the filling of the three directors' seats whose terms expire.

Hofstrand said recognition will be given to Shorthorn and Polled Shorthorn producers at the evening banquet with the presentation of awards that will include Sire of the Year, Century Club winners, Junior Breeder of the Year and the announcement of the three recipients of the Shorthorn Foundation-Don Longley Memorial Scholarships to members of the American Junior Shorthorn Association.

The National Shorthorn Lassies, the women's auxiliary of the association, will be having their national annual meeting the same dates.

The meeting will also host the crowning of the National Shorthorn Lassie Queen at the annual banquet. According to Wilma Russell, Fullerton, Ne., coordinator of the event, 16 young ladies will vie for the national crown now worn by Mary McLaughlin, Woodsfields, Oh.

Sterling elected president of Limousin Association

REEDSVILLE, W. Va. — The Eastern Limousin Breeders Association held their annual membership meeting September 29 at Inter-State Farms, Reedsville, West Virginia. Larry Sterling, manager of Inter-State Farms was elected president for the coming year. William Slagle, Friendsville, Md. was elected vice-president and Robert Line, Jr. Carlisle, Pa. was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

The membership agreed to enlarge the size of the board of directors from six to nine members. The following five members were elected to the board: James Fawley of Lynchburg, Ohio; Harry Kesterson of Parkinsburg, W. Va.; Charles McDonald of Inwood, W. Va.; Richard McDonald Jr. of Shippensburg, Pa. and William Slagle.

Discussion was held on the Spring Sale at Columbus, Ohio on May 3. Members are encouraged to start selecting quality animals now for that sale. A summer field day is being planned. The location and date of this event will be announced. There was also interest in a fall field day and club calf sale. The sale committee is to draw up plans for this sale.

Robert Line, membership chairman outlined this years membership drive. Members are being selected in different areas to coordinate this drive. These area coordinators will be responsible for contacting owners of Limousin or those interested in Limousin cattle. Line stressed the importance of supporting the local association by being a member. It is the local association that sponsors sales, field days and advertisements of the breed. Young people 18 or younger are encouraged to become Active Junior members. For one dollar they can receive information and participate in the associations activities.

It was reported that there was a good Limousin display at the Ohio State Fair. An interest in showing and exhibiting Limousin was expressed. This matter was referred to the show and exhibit committee.

The following appointments were made for the coming year: Gordon Briggs, Gambier, Ohio - sale; John Moore, Newville, Pa. - shows and exhibits; Robert Line, Jr. - membership and Richard McDonald, Jr. - promotion.

The associations territory includes Delaware, Maryland, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Virginia, West Virginia and New England. All Limousin breeders or persons interested in Limousin are encouraged to contact any member of the board or Eastern Limousin Breeders Association, RD5, Box 114, Carlisle, PA. 17013 for more information.

Heart Association elects officers

HARRISBURG — Dr. Robert F. Zelis, Hershey, was elected president and Thomas W. Walker, Harrisburg, was named chairman-elect of the Board of Directors of the American Heart Association, Pennsylvania Affiliate, on September 30, during the annual Assembly in White Haven.

Others named to top posts were: Judith K. Daugherty, R.N., Ligonier, chairman of the Board, and Dr. Joseph M. Young, Monessen, president-elect.

The election was the highlight of the two-day assembly which included panel discussions on the future growth of the Heart Association in Pennsylvania, awards to key volunteers, and a meeting of the Board of Directors.

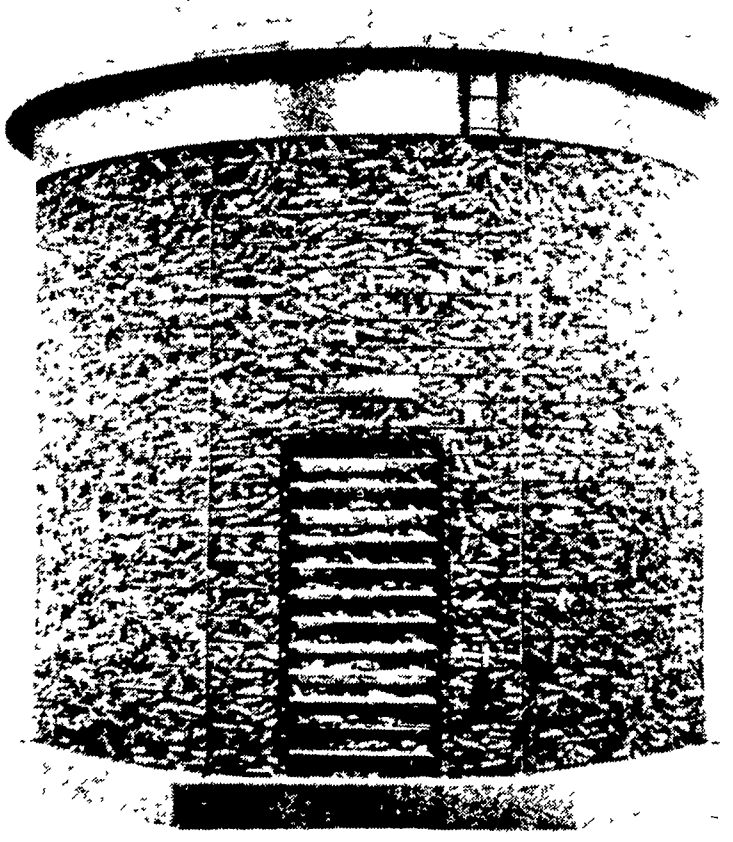
SPEEDY CORN CRIBS


BAR-LOK CONSTRUCTION
Cut Corn Crib Erection Time!
Store More Corn For Less Money!
No other corn crib goes up as fast or as easy as the Speedy Crib with roof rafters. This feature, plus Bar-Lok side panels, minimizes corn crib erection time.
There's a Speedy Crib for every farm need, priced right for every budget.
- CHOICE OF 900, 1200 or 1700 BUSHEL SIZES — One of them is just right for your particular storage needs
- 5 OR 2 GAUGE WIRE MESH SIDE PANELS — The Speedy 5 gauge crib won't bulge or sag — stands straight and tall year after year For extra strength and durability, get the 2 gauge crib It outlasts other cribs even with full capacity loads
- STEEP (35°) or EXTRA STEEP (45°) PITCHED ROOF — You don't have to climb inside the crib to kick the corn to the edges You fill right to the top with no wasted space
- SPECIAL 1700 BUSHEL CRIB — Bottom two thirds 2 gauge wire mesh, top one third 5 gauge wire mesh Gives extra strength where the stress is the greatest
- OPTIONAL WEATHER-BAN — Two foot wide band of heavy gauge galvanized sheet — prevents rain and snow from entering top of the crib
EASY TO ERECT!

Step 1—Bar Lok Construction saves you time—gives you a strong, sturdy crib Crib wire panels are interlaced to form an eye A 13 x 3/8" rod is then inserted through the eye and pushed down to the foundation Easy, simple, fast construction

Step 2—Rafters are bolted to assembled rafter ring Now you're ready to put the roof panels on Rafters assure you of proper roof panel placement the first time No wooden framework to build

American Holstein Sale nets $195,000

MIDDLETOWN - The Pennsylvania All-American Holstein sale was held September 27, at the Pennsylvania Holstein Farm in Middletown, with 36 females and two calves up for auction for a total of $195,000. The 36 head averaged $5,416.66, with the top selling female, an intermediate heifer, selling for $37,000.

"Marlu Elevation Eleanor," born November 27, 1978, went to top bidder George M. Knight of Airville, York County. Eleanor is a full sister to "Northcroft Ella Elevation," also owned by Knight. Her full sister and her dam are both classified excellent in all categories and both have extraordinary high indexes. Consigner of this top selling heifer was Marlu Farms of Lincroft, New Jersey.

The second high selling cow was "Willsholm Jewel Elite," born November 8, 1977. Jewel Elite sold to The Elite Syndicate of Jermyn, Lackawanna County, for $12,000. Consigners of the cow were the Calvin Will Family of North View Farm, Berlin, Somerset County.

"Rolling-Valley Elevation Patty" was the third high selling female, consigned by Glen and Arlen Landis of Troy, Bradford County. The February 9, 1978 born heifer sold for $9,000 to top bidders Lester M. Poust of Muncy, Lycoming County, and James R. Hunter of Millville, Columbia County.

"Len-Lyn Jerrx Kay Et" took fourth in the high bidding and sold to Ken Main of Copake, New York, for $8,100. The March 18, 1979 heifer calf was sold by Galen Crouse & Sons of Len-Lyn Holsteins, Stevens, Lancaster County.

The sale was sponsored by the Pennsylvania Holstein Association of State College and R. Austin Backus, of Mexico, New York. The sale was held between the two days of the Eastern National Holstein Show held in conjunction with the 16th Pennsylvania All-American Dairy Show this week at the Farm Show Complex.

Dover farmers host corn field day

DOVER - Dover Area Young Farmers are inviting the public to visit their corn test plot site this Sunday, from 2 p.m. through dark, at the field site on the Charles Rauhauser farm, Admire Road, Dover.

Five seed companies have planted a total of 30 varieties for inspection and comparison. Officers of the group note that this year is especially good for observing the growth of the variety of seed types under the Summer's unusual weather conditions.

Cuts evenly

Another reason why all ring-drive silo unloaders are not alike: Wide-stance hexapod 3-point suspension features big 6-inch pulleys and 5/10-inch steel cables to assure proper balance, less stress. Machine can't tip or tilt; cuts level, from top to bottom. Can be installed in empty, partly empty or full silo.

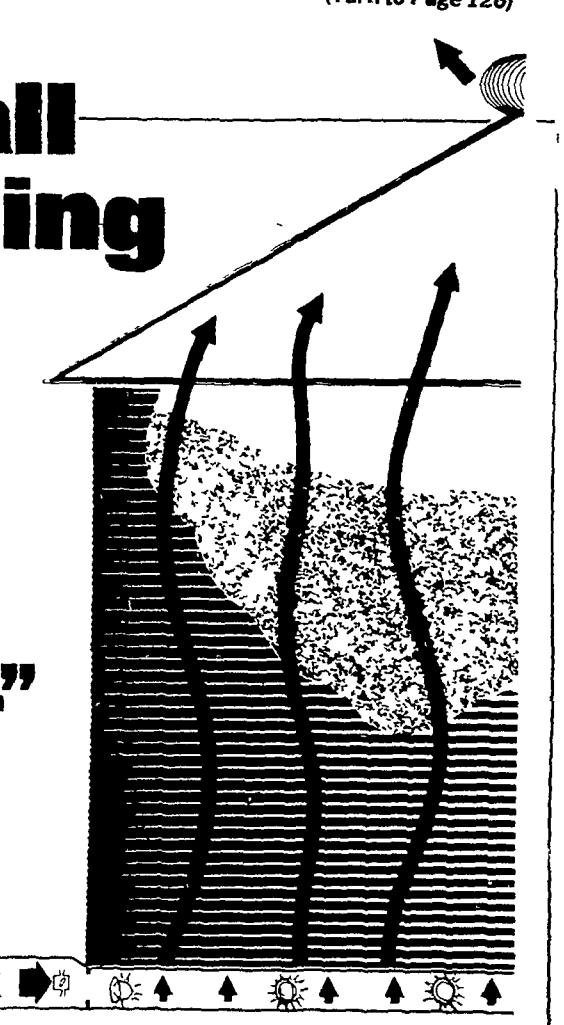
"Harvestall Chillcuring works. It is the most profitable part of my operation."



GREG ESHELMAN
Mohnton, PA

I really couldn't be more satisfied First of all I like the efficiency at harvest With just two of us working, the entire harvest was nonstop

Then the 5¢ per bushel curing cost even included power for installation and our night light.

My buyer was quite impressed with my corn Test weight was from 57 to 58 lbs That means I got an extra $300 per 25 ton truck load Even the drivers commented on the good quality

I'm an Ag Engineering student at Penn State, and we do a lot of work with drying systems Out of curiosity I ran the Harvestall design through our computers and found that, for the most important aspect of drying air flow, the Harvestall bin is the optimum design

Actually, the Harvestall is the most profitable part of my operation With better marketing control I make an extra dollar per bushel For the farmer who needs storage or drying, the Harvestall Chillcuring system is the best investment I can think of

The Harvestall Chillcuring System

It's simple When grain comes out of the field it's a living seed So instead of destroying the seed with high heat, moisture is removed with natural air ventilation The grain keeps all its feed value, there is less shrinkage than with heat drying because only moisture is removed, not dry matter You'll never see white dust in Chillcured corn You actually save half of what you're used to losing in heat shrink

There's no gas or oil to buy Natural air carries away heat and moisture as the corn releases it.

Harvestall Chillcuring is a back-to-basics system that just simply makes good sense. Find out more about it

Grain marketing system to sustain U.S.

LANCASTER - Any change in the present U.S. free market grain price discovery system would be a step toward government control, severly limiting the movement of commodities from farm to user, a grain export executive has said.

Clarence Palmby, vice president, Continental Grain Company, told delegates to the Animal Health Institute's International Annual Meeting that "centralized management - the agricultural business structure in many countries - is the very reason such nations find it necessary to look to the United States for stocks, as well as for price discovery."

According to Mr. Palmby, competing suppliers of grains and oilseeds are becoming more and more involved in our commodity marketing institutions.

The interaction between U.S. grain exports and the world marketplace has heightened to the point where, by July 1, 1980, a record 60 percent of the 180 million tons of grain in global commerce will have originated in this country. Total volume trading will likewise reach unprecedented levels, Mr. Palmby predicted.

He compared the U.S. price discovery concept to other marketing systems around the world. "We have demonstrated ours is best...for the producer and for the end user."

Mr. Palmby's view is that our system can sustain us, even as world grain utilization patterns expand and as livestock and poultry production increase. "Our greatest challenge lies ahead...the continued strengthening of and adding safeguards, as required, to a marketing mechanism which has been the wonder and envy of the entire world."

SEED CORN OR COMMERCIAL CORN

Now, you can handle both . . . up to Six rows at a time!

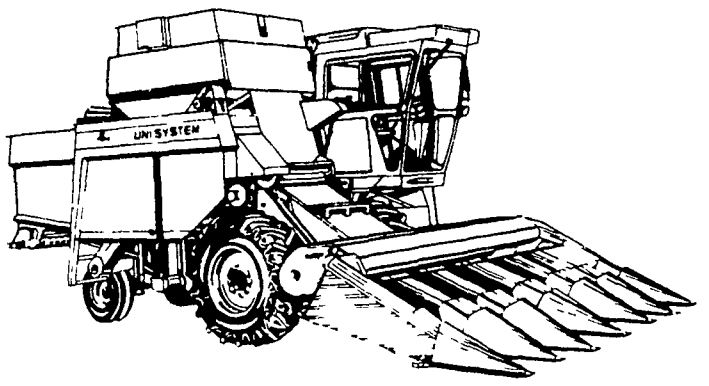
The 838 Husker is in a class by itself. It is the only self-propelled picker available for harvesting seed or commercial corn six rows at a time. Greater husking capacity means a larger profit for you. Big yields are handled easily with a wide 18-inch wagon elevator. It can easily be lowered to provide clearance under doors and power lines. Sixteen husking rolls give 33% more capacity when compared to the current 737 model.

Remember the 838 Husker! It has more to offer: increased capacity...improved feeding and cleaning... reliable performance...improved accessability...easier mounting...wide wagon elevator...and "over-shot" feeder house.

THE UNI-COMBINE GIVES YOU "ROUND-THE-CLOCK HARVESTING!



The new model 818 is bigger, more rugged and has a larger harvesting capacity. In fact 33% more capacity than the current 717 Combine. This new generation Combine has a 165-bushel grain bin, plus a wide 48-inch cylinder. It is designed to be used with the 801 Power Unit, FAS-TACH corn heads, and bean/grain platforms, with changeover from corn harvesting to bean harvesting in just minutes. The 818 Combine... built in the finest New Idea tradition.

Northeastern 4-H Club elects officers

LITITZ- The Northeastern Community 4-H Club held its September 24 meeting at the Starview United Church of Chirst.

The members elected new officers. They included: secretary-Robin Bowers, historian-Lori Gross, assistant-Nathan Tracey.

The program for the evening was presented by Mrs. Rachel Tracey. Each member was asked to bring a pumpkin and decorate it to enter in the Susquehanna Garden Show.

The next meeting will be a halloween party and hayride at the home of Steven Gross. Each member is to wear a costume.

"Pig" Paul to address pork meeting

DELMAR, Md. - One of the most enthusiastic boosters of the pork industry will speak to the pork producers attending the "Peninsula Pork Rally", at the Delmarva Convention Hall, Delmar, Maryland on November 8, 1979.

Rolland Paul, who perfers to be called "Pig" Paul, has been very involved in the pork industry. He graduated from Iowa State University in 1957, he was field secretary for the Iowa Pork Producers from 1958 to 1966, served as the Executive Vice-President of the National Pork Producers Council from 1966 to 1969 and has been raising pigs on his pork plantation at Willow Springs, Missouri for the past ten years.

"Pig" Paul feels very strongly that we need to improve the image of pork and create a demand for it. "Pig" has a list of three things he says are basic to the hog business: the sow must lay down to have pigs, the pigs have got to grow efficiently and someone has got to buy the product.

In addition to "Pig" Paul speaking to the producers, Dr. Roger Gerritts of the United States Dept. of Agriculture will address the problem of government regulation on sulfa and nitrites.

A panel of four local pork all-americans will be sharing with the group about the problems and challenges of their operations.

Along with the seminars, there will be a trade show involving both local and national suppliers to the pork industry. There will be ample opportunity for everyone to visit with the representatives of all the exhibitors.

More information is available by calling 302-337-7702 or writing to: Peninsula Pork Rally, P.O. Box 208, Greenwood, Delaware 19950.

Krueger named Curtiss vice-president

CARY, Ill. — Curtiss Breeding Industries Inc. named 29-year employee Ted Krueger to the newly-created post of Vice President-Breeder Relations in its Curtiss Breeding Service Division.

He will visit and consult with breeders of registered dairy cattle of all breeds, represent Curtiss at dairy shows, sales and meetings and coordinate the firm's working relationships with government agencies, breed associations and university personnel.

Additional duties will include assignments in domestic and international marketing operations and in the selection of cows for special mating in the Curtiss young sire program.

Krueger joined Curtiss as an assistant herdsman in 1950 and after a series of promotions, devoted the 21 years just prior to his new assignment to sire selection and procurement work.

Widely known throughout the industry, he is a director of World Dairy Expo and was formerly coordinator of the dairy cattle judging contest there.

He also has served on several breed association, Dairy Shrine and NAAB committees.

The Breeding Service Division at Curtiss is the former Domestic Sales and Marketing Department. Its executives report directly to the Office of the President.

Researchers seek stop to horse bot fly

NEWARK, Del. – Entomologists at the University of Delaware's Agricultural Experiment Station have had their eyes glued on bot flies this past summer, in a project they hope may someday lead to more effective controls for this serious equine parasite. Target of their field obervations is the common horse stomach bot fly.

Stanton E. Cope, a graduate student working on the project under the direction of parasitologist Dr. E. Paul Catts, reported on this work during the gathering of the Eastern Branch of the Entomological Society of America, held last week, in Hershey, Pa.

So far their field observations have led the scientists to draw several conclusions about horse bot fly behavior that run contrary to previous assumptions, explains Cope. Three observations which they consider particularly significant are the fact that 1) adult flies have a very short life span–usually no more than two days; 2) that a female fly can lay approximately 1,000 eggs in an hour and is capable of doing so in 95-degree heat or a thunderstorm–in other words, that her reproductive drive is very strong; and 3) that males are highly territorial, defending anywhere from a single horse to a small group of horses.

The Delaware entomologists have just finished their second summer of collecting biological data for a five-year project aimed at identifying some "weak link" in the behavior of adult equine bot flies that could be attacked through some form of artificial management such as a trap.

Cope, who has spent many hours observing bot fly behavior around horses, says it's required a certain amount of agility to stay out of the animals' way sometimes, while at the same time remaining close enough to see what's happening with the flies.

Whereever there are horses on pasture you'll find stomach bot flies, he explains. The insects are a serious problem because of their parasitic behavior in the larval stage.

Eggs are laid on hairs on the inside front knees of horses. When hatched, young larva burrow into the gums and tongue of a host animal as they work their way towards the stomach. There they attach themselves to the lining, interfering with digestion and generally weaking the animal.

As many as 300-400 maggots may infest a single horse. They erode and ulcerate the stomach lining, and in extreme cases may cause bleeding and death.

Adult flies can also cause frantic animals to inflict serious injury on themselves or other horses as they try to evade the persistent pests.

The present control for this parasite is medication with a strong drug or diligent removal of eggs by washing. Because of the cost and the toll medication can take on the horse, most animals are treated only once a year–after the first frost when egg-laying activity of adult flies stops. Unless treated, maggots can feed on stomach linings of a horse for up to nine months before entering their next life phase and emerging as adults to repeat the parasitical cycle.

Ultimate goal of the present research project is to develop a control alternative to the present drug-treatment for bots-hopefully a control which prevents or reduces parasitism in the first place.

SILO PRESS

NEW LOW-COST WAY TO SEAL AND STORE FEED STUFFS EFFECTIVELY

Nutritionists, cattlemen and dairymen agree sealed storage is the way to get the most from feedstuffs.

But, sealed silos are costly ... and immovable!

Now, you can seal and store silage and high moisture grains in low-cost plastic bags ... wherever you wish ... and retain maximum feed quality, quickly converted to more milk per cow or extra beef per pound of feed for faster, more profitable gains.

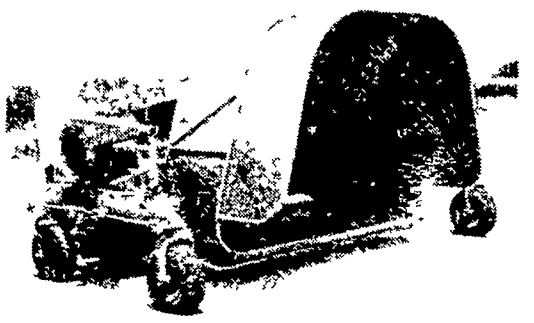
You also can reap an extra harvest in added benefits.

The Eberhardt Silopress has been used successfully in Western Europe for seven years, It's new in America...but catching on fast!

Compare this new concept with the system you're using now. Consider the benefits, advantages and flexibility. And also consider the cost.

Then, put a Silopress to work for you!

IT'S A WELL BUILT MACHINE!



Practical, durable and versatile, the Silopress is designed and constructed for hard, continuous use. It is easily maintained. There are few moving parts. Lurbrication is convenient.

It can be transported easily from field to field or farm to farm, maneuvered into tight places.

The Silopress may be operated with a tractor as small as 50 horsepower

Bags are 8 mil. thickness, 8 feet in diameter. They come in lengths from 80-100 feet. Capacity: Approximately 100 tons per bag depending on material stored. Bags are American-made, readily available.

- Extensive research proves the Silopress preserves feedstuffs with minimal nutrient loss
- Feedstuffs come out of storage highly palatable.
- Feedstuffs capable of being ensiled, sealed and stored in plastic bags include corn, alfalfa, oats, barley, wheat, coastal Bermuda grass, legume forages, native grasses, ryegrass, milo, sorghum, brewers' spend grain, distillers' grains, fruit packing byproducts and cannery byproducts. High moisture grains also may be stored successfully. In some instances, the Silopress has been used to store beef and chicken waste Aspen wood is being stored experimentally for use as a feedstuff
- Storage capacity is unlimited When extra storage is needed, another bag can be added Each 80 to 100 ft plastic bag may contain 100 tons of silage on the average depending upon the moisture content and density of the feedstuff being handled Bags are readily available.
- Highly mobile, the Silopress is equipped with transport wheels and converts quickly to tow position with an overall width to 7 ft., 8½ in. The machine can be towed behind a tractor or pickup on the highway.
- With a Silopress, you can store your feedstuffs any place on your farm . wherever it can be fed most conveniently. Bags require no permanent foundations.
- Feedstuffs can be self-fed to cattle directly from the bag. To many livestockmen, this feauture alone justifies use of the Silopress on their farms and ranches Materials also may be removed with front end loader. The bag is filled in vertical layers, making unloading easier.
- For farmers wishing to store several different types of feedstuffs separately, the Silopress is ideal. A separate bag can be used to store each type of feed
- With a Silopress, you can feed a number of different feedstuffs in whatever order you desire or in combination
- Farmers who are renting their land can enjoy the advantages of sealed storage with a Silopress without the high investment costs and landlord-tenant complexities of conventional silos
- The Silopress is well adapted to custom farming operations, bringing the advantages of sealed storage to both small and large-scale farmers (In Europe, many Silopress units are owned by custom operators.)
- With a Silopress, you can harvest feedstuffs almost irregardless of weather ... rainy days no exception. Little or no silage is lost during work stoppages in filling This system of storage will accept feedstuffs with wide variations in moisture content and still maintain feed quality

Silopress will accept material from side or rear unloading wagons and trucks .. or front end loaders

CUSTOM SILOPRESS. WE CAN FILL BAGS ON YOUR FARM. HAY-CORN SILAGE HI MOISTURE EAR CORN OR HI MOISTURE SHELLED CORN.

CALL US

Silage empties into silopress, is compressed and stored in bag. The machine will accept up to a ton of material per minute

First agricultural trade office opens

WASHINGTON - The first of a world-wide network of agricultural trade offices authorized by Congress last year opened last week in Miami, Fla., according to Thomas R. Hughes, administator of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Foreign Agricultural Service.

The office, one of six to be established this year under the Agricultural Trade Act of 1978, will be a focal point for export sales promotion throughout Central America and the northern California trade area. That area, including Mexico, accounted for $1.5 billion in U.S. farm product exports last year and is regarded as a good growth market for American farmers, Hughes said.

The Miami office is the only one of the new offices to be located in the United States. Additional trade offices will be established this year in Singapore; Seoul, Korea; Hamburg, West Germany; Warsaw, Poland; and Bahrain on the Persian Gulf. An agricultural trade office in London, established under other authority, has been in operation since May 1978.

Purpose of the new offices is to aid agricultural export efforts in major market areas by providing assistance to U.S. individuals, cooperatives, and firms exporting or seeking to export agricultural commodities. They will also provide a point of contact for importers seeking to buy farm products in the United States.

The office also will assist the private associations which work with the Foreign Agricultural Service as "market development cooperators." Forty-six of these non-profit groups, organized on a commodity basis, are now working in foreign countries under continuing contracts with FAS.

Hughes said U.S. agricultural trade has become a mainstay in the international economic position of the United States, with farm products exports in fiscal year 1979 estimated at $32 billion compared with $27.3 billion the preceding year. In this decade, agricultural exports have more than doubled in volume and increased five-fold in value, he said.

Denson speaks at P.E.M.A. meeting

LANCASTER—The Pennsylvania Egg Marketing Association held their monthly meeting at the Sheraton-Conestoga on September 14. The largest attendance of recent months was recorded.

Bill Patterson reported that the next consumer education session with restaurants will be held in the Lehigh area on November 20.

According to Richard Ammon, the Liquid Egg Research project has been completed and Dr. Mast will issue a report in the near future.

For the evening program, W.D. Denson, vice president of Agrimetrics Associates, explained the need for analysis. He believes that companies who will stay in business need all competitive information available.

The next P.E.M.A. meeting will be held on October 12 at the Sheraton Conestoga. The social hour begins at 6p.m. in the meeting room.

UNIVERSITY PARK—Forty 4-H members have been selected to represent Pennsylvania at the National 4-H Congress on November 25-29. The contest will be held in Chicago, Illinois.

The Commonwealth representatives were selected in their various categories at the state contest which was held at Penn State in August. The winners were among 110,000 youths who competed for the top honors.

Mr. Carroll L. Howes, acting state 4-H leader at Penn State, recently announced the award selections. He commented that the contestants were judged on the basis of project work, leadership ability, and participation in county and state activities.

The following individuals were among those selected as this year's state representatives: Kenneth Kehr, wood science; Nina Hoffman, leadership; Anne Meyerhoffer, citizenship; Ruth Baral, safety; Susan Heilinger, food preservation; Carol Mundis, automotive; Joey Welsh, petroleum power; Jean Hemminger, food conservation and safety; Wanda Kneller, poultry; Charla Janney, veterinary science; Laura Rohrbach, home environment; Nancy Yorlets, agriculture; Brenda Negley, dog care and training; Robert Otto,Jr., health; and Rachael Furlong, public speaking.

Kenneth Kehr, 18, of Littlestown, R1, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Kehr. Kenneth is a freshman at Penn State and has been a 4-H member for 11 years.

Nina Hoffman, 19, of Gettysburg, R2, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Hoffman. She is a sophomore at Indiana University of Pennsylvania. Nina has been a member for 11 years.

Anne Meyerhoffer, 17, of Taneytown, R2, Md., is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clue Meyerhoffer. She is a senior at Catoctin H.S. Anne has been a 4-H member for eight years.

Ruth Baral, 18, of Gettysburg, R4, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Baral. Ruth is a freshman at Pensacola Christian College and has been a member of 4-H for nine years.

Susan Heilinger, 16, of Newmanstown, R2, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Heilinger. Susan is a junior at the Eastern Lebanon County H.S. She has been a member for seven years.

Carol Mundis, 19, of York, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Kuntz,Sr. She is a 1978 high school graduate and has been a club member for three years.

Joey Welsh, 16, of East Berlin, R1, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Welsh,Jr. He is a senior at the York County Vo-Tech. Joey has been a 4-H member for eight years.

Jean Hemminger, 16, of Glen Rock, R1, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Hemminger. Jean is a junior at the Susquehannock H.S. and has been a club member for eight years.

Wanda Kneller, 16, of Brodbecks, R1, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Silas Kneller. She is a junior at the South Western H.S. Wanda has been in 4-H for eight years.

Charla Janney, 17, of Brodbecks, R1, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin Janney. A freshman at Penn State, Charla has been a 4-H member for seven years.

Laura Rohrbach, 17, of Selinsgrove, is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Karl Rohrbach. She is a freshman at Cornell University. Laura has been a club member for nine years.

Nancy Yorlets, 17, of Mechanicsburg, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Yorlets,Jr. A senior at Cumberland Valley H.S., Nancy has been in 4-H for nine years.

Brenda Negley, 15, of Carlisle, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Negley. She is a sophomore at the Carlisle Intermediate H.S. and has been a club member for eight years.

Robert Otto, Jr., of Carlisle, R8, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Otto. Robert is a 1978 high school graduate. He is a ten-year member of the 4-H club.

Rachael Furlong, 16, of McSherrystown, is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Furlong. She is a junior of Delone Catholic H.S. and has been in 4-H for seven years.

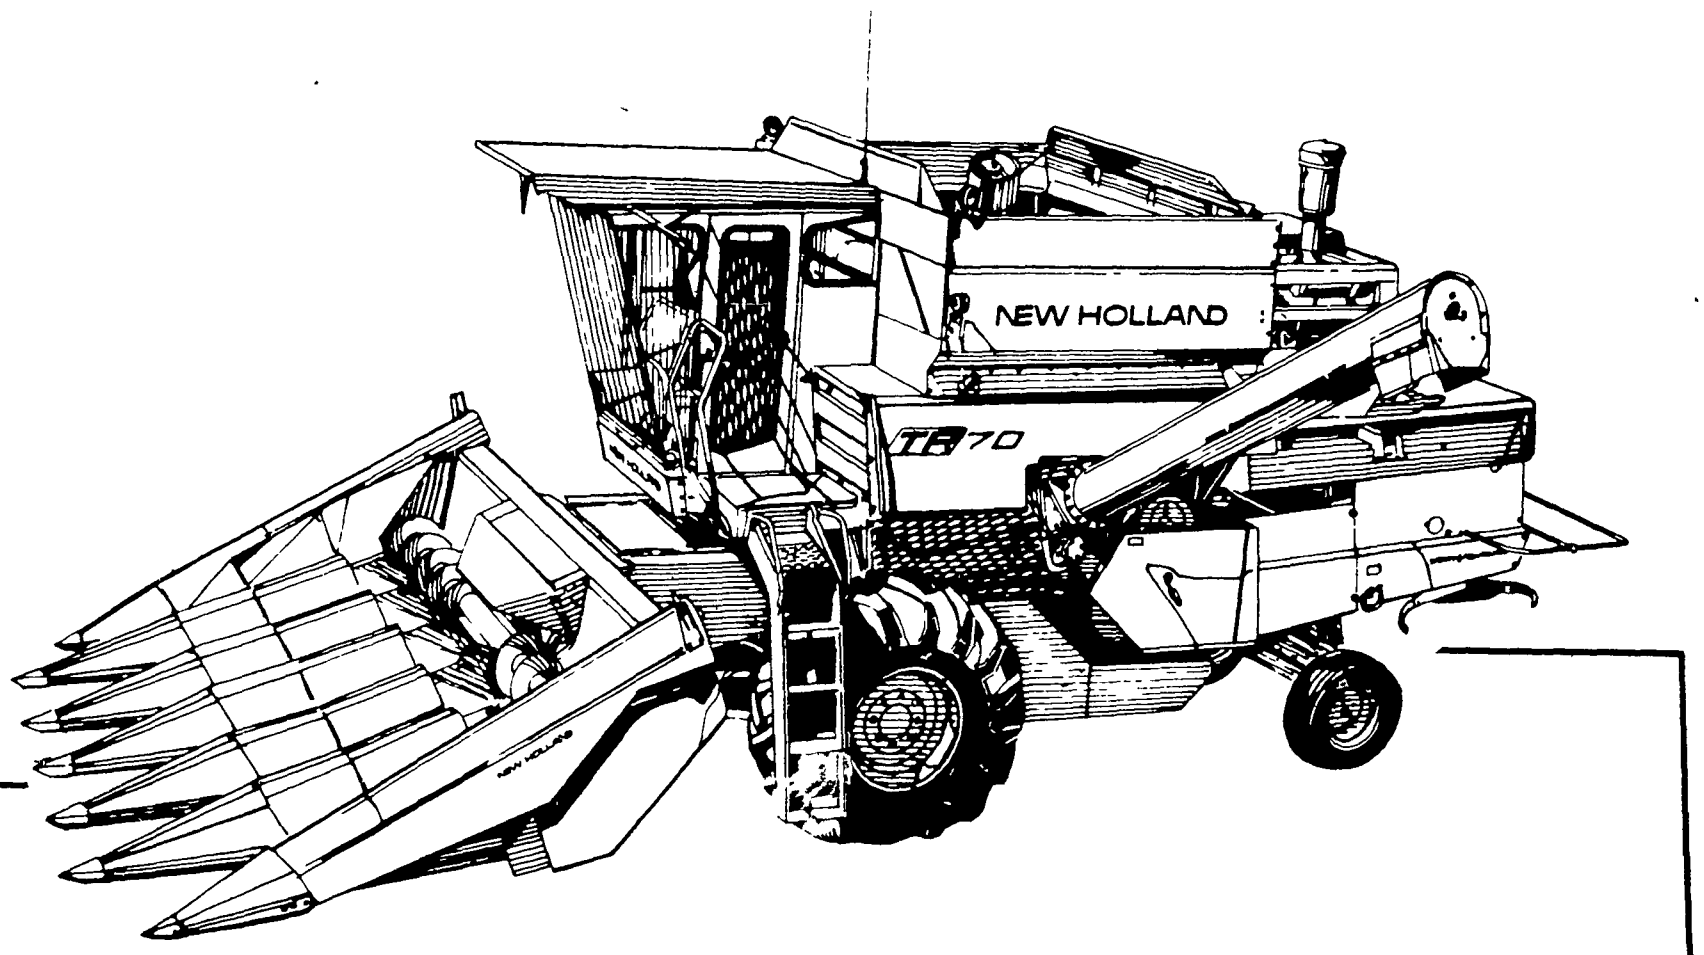
GO WITH THE LEADER IN ROTARY COMBINES!



The TR™ 70 Twin rotor™ Combine from Sperry New Holland

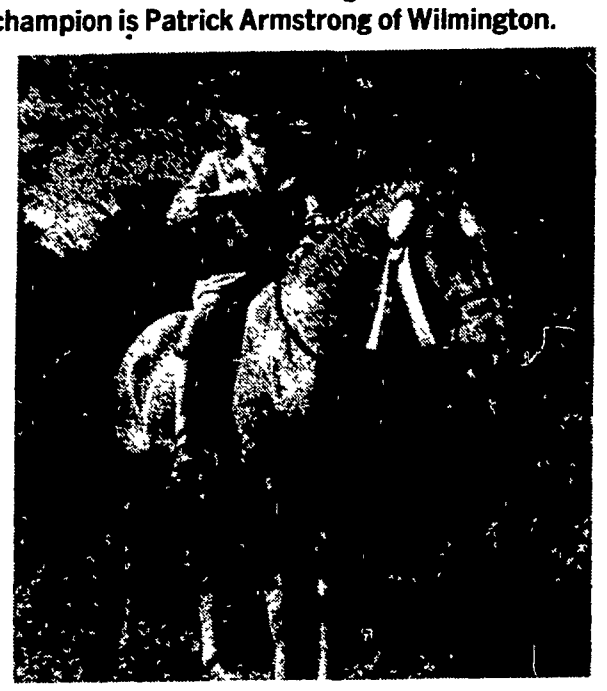
- Available with standard traction drive or hydrostatic drive.
- Two 17"-diameter x 88"-long rotors move the crop rearward in a controlled spiralling motion to maximize threshing and separation with minimal grain damage.
- Centrifugal force separates the grain from the crop residue with less field loss, less grain damage and a cleaner grain sample.
- Two rotors (instead of only one) provide more even flow of material with fewer shock loads and a more even flow of power.
- The American Society of Agriculture Engineers has hailed the Sperry new Holland Twin Rotor combine concept as "ONE OF THE 25 GREATEST INVENTIONS IN NORTH AMERICAN AGRICULTURAL HISTORY".

Ask your Sperry New Holland dealer listed on the opposite page to make arrangements for you to see the TR 70 Combine in action!

SPERRY NEW HOLLAND

Delaware horse show winners announced

The Delaware 4-H English Hunter Horse champion is Patrick Armstrong of Wilmington.



Kareen Kenworthy of Rehoboth was the English Hunter Pony and English Pleasure Pony champion at the Delaware 4-H State horse show.

DOVER, Del. – The 14th Annual State of Delaware 4-H Horse Show was held September 23, at Red Gate Farm, owned by Dr. W. L. Mroz, near Dover. The Show was open to active 4-H members between the ages of 9 and 19.

Championship in the Western Pleasure Horse division goes to Ginger Aikens, of Milton. Jennifer Picard, of Dover, is reserve champion. Champion in the Western Pony division is Steve Majchrzak, of Seaford. Reserve champion is Becky Lacy, New Castle.

In the English Pleasure Pony division, championship goes to Kareen Kenworthy, of Rehoboth. Robin Byrne, Wilmington, takes the reserve championship.

The Delaware 4-H Western Horse champion was Ginger Aikens, Milton.

Delaware horse

English Pleasure Horse champion is Denise Tyler, of Newark. Janice Anderson, of Lewes, is reserve champion.

In the Hunter Horse division, Patrick Armstrong, of Wilmington, is champion and Darlene Burkhardt, of Chadds Ford, Pa., is reserve champion.

Kareen Kenworthy takes the Hunter Pony championship, and Missy Kline, of Dover, the reserve championship.

The Beatrice Campbell Perpetual Trophy is presented each year to the 4-H youth who has accumulated the most points in both fitting and showing and horsemanship classes. This year's winner is Clint Phillips, of Lewes.

All exhibitors were required to prepare their own animals for the fitting and showmanship classes. Their only assistance could be in holding, leading, and loading.

Extension agents receive service awards

UNIVERSITY PARK - Three members of The Pennsylvania State University's Cooperative Extension Service staff are among 110 agents in the United States who received Distinguished Service Awards at this week's annual meeting of the National Association of County Agricultural Agents in Rapid City, South Dakota.

Those being honored are Robert C. Antram, Somerset County Extension agent; Robert J. Rugaber, Butler County Extension director; and Francis C. Turner, community resource development agent for five northern tier counties.

According to John Z. Shearer, Franklin County Extension director and state awards committe chairman, the three men are being cited for "outstanding educational contributions to Pennsylvania's agriculture."

Antram, a member of the Extension staff since 1954, was honored for his educational work in the areas of 4-H, livestock, and farm management. A native of Washington County, he received a bachelor of science degree from Penn State, majoring in agricultural education.

Rugaber, a native of Tioga County, has been a member of the Penn State staff for 24 years. He received the award on the basis of his dairy, land reclamation, and horticulture program. He received a bachelor of science degree from Penn State in 1955, majoring in dairy science.

Turner, a native of Crawford County, conducts educational resource development programs in Bradford, Sullivan, Susquehanna, Tioga, and Wyoming counties. He received a bachelor of science degree from Penn State and master of science degree from the University of Arizona.

OCS heifer takes top junior honors in tough competition

Debra L. Smith of O-C-S Dairy, Jefferson, Md., exhibited the junior champion Holstein at the All-American Dairy Show last week in Harrisburg. Debra's senior heifer calf, O-C-S Dairy Elevation Katie, took the championship title in competition with older animals.

Judge J. Douglas Fellers, Hays, Kansas, called the placing a close one, but said the senior heifer calf is the kind of animal he would like to buy.

Sired by Round Oak Elevation, the senior heifer calf is undefeated in Maryland shows this year, according to Debra. She was also junior champion at the Ohio State Fair, and was named junior champion of the junior show in Harrisburg. From the All-American, she will be traveling to Madison, Wisconsin, to compete in the World Dairy Expo.

A very happy Debra Lynn Smith, Jefferson, Md., shows her junior champion senior heifer, calf, O-C-S Dairy Elevation Katie, who was named junior champion of the Holstein show. The heifer was named champion of the junior show as well.

Reserve junior champion went to the first place junior heifer calf, Wagnercrest Ramlane Ella, sired by C. Tamlane Rockman Senator. Exhibited by Queens Manor Holsteins, the heifer is owned jointly by Edward J. Doeberiener, and Bernard Wagner, Jamestown, Pa.

Aurand named public relations director

LANCASTER - National Central Bank has named Eloise C. Aurand as public relations officer in the marketing division, according to Executive Vice President Donald M. Cooper, who heads the Bank's administrative group.

Aurand, Columbia R1, comes to National Central from Penn State's Milton S. Hershey Medical Center, where she had been publications editor since 1969. She had earlier worked as director of public information and instruction in English at Elizabethtown College and as a staff writer and copy editor with the Lancaster New Era.

A Lancaster native, Aurand is a graduate of McCaskey High School and Penn State University, where she has pursued additional graduate work in journalism.

Avian pathologists hold biannual meeting

KENNETT SQUARE — On September 18 & 19, 1979, the Pennsylvania Avian Pathologists held their biannual meeting at New Bolton Center, the rural campus for the University of Pennsylvania's School of Veterinary Medicine. The group was hosted by New Bolton Center's Poultry Diagnostic Laboratory.

Practicing, industrial, and university veterinarians attended the conference for the first time. Twenty-five veterinarians in all participated in the meeting including state and laboratory diagnosticians.

An important outcome of this meeting was the formation of the Pennsylvania Avian Veterinary Association. Dr. Edward T Mallinson, Chief of Avian Health for the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, is president of the new group and Dr. Robert J. Eckroade, assistant professor of Poultry Pathology for the University of Pennsylvania's School of Veterinary Medicine, is the Secretary-Treasurer. Plans of the new association call for biannual meetings at different locations throughout the state.

Pink rot control sought for potatoes

NEWARK, Del. – Pink rot of potatoes has been a perennial problem for many potato growers in Delaware. Some years yield losses have been estimated at about five per cent. Some growers have had higher losses. "Presently," says University of Delaware extension plant pathologist Bob Mulrooney, "we have no control measures except rotation for this soil-borne fungus." Resistant varieties are being sought, but so far none have been a factor in reducing the damage from pink rot. Two researchers at the University's Agricultural Experiment Station are also looking at cover cropping practices which might discourage winter survival of the pathogen. The possiblility of cheimical control is being investigated, too.

This summer Mulrooney tested a new experimental fungicide from Ciba-Geigy called Ridomil (formerly CGA-48988) on a plot of potatoes grown on the University farm in Newark under an experimental use permit.

This systemic fungicide was applied in several ways: 2 lbs. active ingredient per acre in granule form at planting; ½ lb. per acre applied three times during the growing season as a foliar spray; and 2 lbs. per acre applied two weeks prior to harvest as a foliar spray. An untreated check plot was also included in this extension demonstration.

All the plots were inoculated with the pink rot pathogen when plants were approximately six inches tall.

At harvesttime the Ridomil-treated plots where three aplications were used were significantly better than the untreated plots, reports Mulrooney. Mean percentage of infection for the untreated check was 7.3, while the mean was only 1.4 for the plot where fungicide was applied three times at the ½ pound rate. However, there were no significant yield increases.

"I'm excited to see a new, effective fungicide like Ridomil being developed," says the specialist. "It looks like it could be of help to our potato growers and hopefully it won't be long before it becomes commercially available."

Pink rot is a difficult disease to assess because infected tubers can't always be identified at harvest. Potatoes showing no symptoms can be graded, packed, and shipped, only to deteriorate on the way to market. Unknown numbers of truck loads have been dumped because of such disease problems in transit. So the fungicide is needed not only to help increase the amount of usable spuds harvested, but also to help get disease-free tubers to the market place.

Chinese dairymen visit Wisconsin farms

DE FOREST, Wis. — American Breeders Service was well prepared to host fourteen dairy technicians from the People's Republic of China and their interpreters. The ABS sign, which stands beside I90-94, greeted the delegation as it approached the company's headquarters in DeForest, Wisconsin.

The Chinese were visiting a number of farms and dairy-related businesses in Wisconsin, to get a first hand look at dairy practices in the state. The group was mainly from the Red Star Commune, near Peking. Two thousand Holstein are milked there, with most of the work being done by hand.

Nearly all of the dairy cows in China are bred artifically and the delegation was interested in getting more ideas on how to maximize production.

Fourteen dairy technicians from China who have toured farms and dairy-related businesses in Wisconsin.

The American Breeders Service sign welcomed the Chinese dairyman for a recent visit.

FALL ANNIVERSARY SALE

Held at
Shady Lane Dairy Sales
Located ¼ mile west of Quarryville, PA Off Rt. 372 on Oak Bottom Rd.

FRIDAY NIGHT, OCTOBER 12

8:00 P.M. SHARP

85 HEAD OUTSTANDING HIGH GRADE HOLSTEINS 85

This sale consists of one complete Maryland herd, many fresh and springing cows and balance in various stages of lactation. Herd always on DHIA with a herd average of over 14,000M & 553F. All home raised I.D. grades from top Virginia, Maryland and West Virginia A.I. Sires. This is a young herd with ages running from 2 to 5 years showing excellent dairy quality and many fine udders.

Individual records running to and over 20,000 with cows closely culled, this has been a family operation with no hired help. The cows were always well attended but never pushed. The only reason for the sale is the retirement of the farmer. This is a clean herd, buy with confidence.

TB & Blood tested, pregnancy examined by vet.

Terms: Cash or good check sale night. Not responsible for accidents.

Note: Due to the annual large attendance no transportation can be arranged for this sale. Ample parking.

At This Time of The Year, with the harvest in and silos filled, We would like to invite all our customers and friends of the dairy business to take an evening off and come to an Oxen and pig roast, starting at 5:30 p.m. Come as you are and please bring your family

We sincerely appreciate the business over the years and hope with your continued support to keep on serving you for many years to come.

— Specializing in herds, both public sales and private —
None too large or none too small!!

PUT MORE MILK IN YOUR TANK WITH PURINA "TOTAL BALANCED" Hi-O 36 or TEST COW CHOW!

TYPICAL RATIONS SHORT ON ENERGY | OTHER "HIGH ENERGY" RATIONS SHORT ON VITAMINS AND MINERALS | PURINA HIGH ENERGY RATIONS WITH "TOTAL BALANCE"

★ Typical Complete Dairy Ration Or Soybean Meal and Corn with Vitamin/Mineral Premix

Many dairymen have switched from these rations. They've seen that they can't deliver all their cows require for maximum milk production. Here's why:

Low Energy Limits Production

Look at the low energy level. Like the weakest link in a chain, a cow will perform up to the most limiting nutrient. With these typical rations, it's energy. The extra levels of proteins, vitamins and minerals can go to waste. So, a cow will not milk up to her full potential.

★ Other "High Energy" Rations (competitive completes or Soybean Meal and Corn)

You'll find many feed companies jumping on the high-energy bandwagon. They've learned that energy is a key element in milk production. So, they raised the energy of their complete dairy rations, often at the expense of other essential nutrients.

Many dairymen have also decided to make a higher energy ration from soybean meal and corn. But watchout! Considering energy alone can lead to a nutrient balance trap.

Low Levels of Vitamins and Minerals Limit Production.

While these rations have higher levels of energy the limiting factor to production is their low vitamin and mineral level.

Of course, a cow might produce more the first few months of her first lactation on this ration. Trouble is, she's using her own body stores to provide needed vitamins and minerals. As those stores are depleted, a cow's milk production will drop below normally expected levels. Health problems might develop. And most important, she'll actually produce less during her next lactation.

★ Purina High Energy Milking Rations

Top milk production, lactation after lactation, depends on a balanced high-energy ration. Purina High Octane® 36 concentrate and Test Cow complete deliver high-energy without sacrificing the essential balance of vitamins and minerals.

Balanced, high-nutrient levels for maximum milk production

Purina Research has found a way to provide high-energy levels without sacrificing other essential nutrients. It comes from years of testing specific ingredients. Plus an in-depth knowledge of what your cows require.

It also comes from tough quality control standards. Purina people are sticklers for top-quality ingredients to get the correct levels of protein, energy, vitamins and minerals. So there are no "weak links" in High Octane 36 or Test Cow rations.

As an added bonus, your cows develop and keep good body condition. you should see fewer herd health problems. And, strong cows keep milking at top potential, year after year.

If you're a concentrate man, mix Purina High Octane 36 concentrate with your home-grown grains for top milk production. Or, for a complete ration, choose Purina Test Cow complete.
